BIG WIN FOR INDIAN AMERICANS AS 5 ELECTED TO HOUSE OF REPS

Raja Krishnamoorthi, Ro Khanna, Pramila Jayapal, Shri Thanedar and Dr Ami Bera have been elected to the House. All five are Democrats and were widely expected to win, though initial surveys projected a Republican wave. However, US President Joe Biden's Democratic Party appears to have strongly pushed back against Donald Trump-led Republican Party, preventing the latter from sweeping the House of Representatives and other elected bodies | P12

SERVING COMMON MAN IS PRIORITY, SAYS NEW CJI

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

JUSTICE D Y Chandrachud was on Wednesday administered the oath of office and secrecy as the 50th Chief Justice of India (CJI) by President Droupadi Murmu at Rashtrapati Bhavan. He will have a tenure of two years till November 10, 2024, a day before he completes 65 years.

With his father Y V Chandrachud being the country's longest serving CJI (1978-1985), the new CJI also entered record books as the first father-son duo at the Supreme Court's helm in India.

Justice Chandrachud began his day at the Supreme Court by garlanding the statue of Mahatma Gandhi on the premises. He and his wife also paid tribute to the national flag in his chamber.

In his first statement to the media, he said he would instill people's faith in the SC not only by his words but also by his work. "My priority is to serve the common man, be it in terms of technology, registry and judicial reforms. We'll consider the needs of the common man in every aspect." To lawyers who congratulating him for occupying the high office, he said, "I'll try to make it no-stress court."

Appointed as SC judge in 2016, Justice Chandrachud overturned verdicts of his father in 2017 and 2018. In the famous Aadhaar ruling, he had struck a discordant note by dissenting with the majority and ruling that Aadhaar was unconstitutionally passed as money bill and was violative of fundamental rights.

He had also dissented in a case relating to the arrest of five human rights activists for allegedly incited violence at Bhima Koregaon, as the other two judges of the bench had allowed the Pune Police to continue their investigation as per law.

Structure was demolished by kar sewaks on Dec 6, 1992. All 32 accused were let off for lack of sufficient evidence

28 years after Babri demolition, special CBI court acquitted all accused in 2020

Appeal against Babri acquittal dismissed

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE Lucknow bench of the Allahabad High Court on Wednesday dismissed a criminal appeal filed by two Ayodhya residents challenging the acquittal of all 32 accused, including former deputy PM L K Advani, in the Babri demolition case.

A bench comprising Justice Ramesh Sinha and Justice Saroj Yadav rejected the plea filed by two persons at the admission stage, questioning their locus standi saying they were not victims of the demolition.

"The two appellants cannot be treated as 'victims', therefore, they have no locus standi to maintain the instant appeal," the bench said.

The appeal was filed by two Ayodhya residents — Haji Mahmood Ahmad and Syed Akhlaq Ahmad — challenging the 2,300-page judgment of special judge S K Yadav of the Lucknow CBI court, on September 30, 2020, acquitting all 32 for lack of adequate evidence. Apart from Advani, the other accused in the case included the then UP chief minister Kalyan Singh, BJP leaders Dr Murli Manohar Joshi, Uma Bharti, Vinay Katiyar, Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh, besides Ritambhara.

The appellants had claimed that they were witnesses in the trial stage and were victims of the demolition.

Opposing the appeal, CBI's counsel Shiv Shukla, state government's lawyer Arunendra and senior counsel Raghvendra Singh representing VHP leader Champat Rai, argued that the two appellants were neither complainants nor victims, adding they cannot appeal as strangers against the verdict of the trial court. After hearing both sides, the bench had reserved its order on October 31.

Referring to a full court verdict in the Manoj Kumar Singh case, the bench observed: "This Court is of the opinion that the instant criminal appeal filed on behalf of the appellants under Section 372 CrPC, is liable to be dismissed on the ground of non-availability of the locus standi to the appellants for challenging the judgment of the special CBI court."

The disputed structure was razed by a mob of kar sevaks in Ayodhya on December 6, 1992, triggering riots that left hundreds dead across the country.

The top leadership of the BJP and the Vishwa Hindu Parishad was present in the temple town on that fateful day.

Upset over daughter's affair, man pushes her into canal

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR @ Ballari

IN a case of honour killing, a man killed his minor daughter by pushing her into the gushing Tungabhadra canal near Kudatini town in Ballari district on October 31. The accused, Omkar Gouda (46), surrendered before the police on November 8 and admitted to the crime.

He told the police that he was not happy with his daughter's love affair with a youth from another community and hence decided to kill her.

The police said that the mother of the victim had lodged a missing complaint on November 1 after her husband and daughter did not return home.

On the day of the murder, the accused took his daughter to a bank, took her transfer signature and got Rs 20 lakh deposited into his account. Later, he took her for a Kannada movie and also bought her a new pair of gold earrings. While returning home, he stopped his two-wheeler near the Tungabhadra canal and asked her to wait.

Glitch alert! Don't pay Bescom bills online

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

THE Bangalore Electricity Supply Company Limited (Bescom) has asked citizens to pay their bills manually this month, instead of the online bill payment mode. Technical glitches in the electricity bills of many consumers have led to them being asked to pay much higher amounts than mentioned on their bills while making e-payments.

Many Bescom consumers have received online bills that are four to five times higher than the amounts mentioned on their actual bills, creating confusion and panic among citizens. They pointed out that the difference in amounts was seen on multiple e-payment portals, including the Bescom e-payment one.

"The printed Bescom bill, which came home was of ₹1,800, but when I tried to pay it online, as I normally do, I found the amount to be ₹5,400. I have no dues or pending bills. The transaction history shows no errors. I try to enter the actual amount, but I am unable to do so. I am trying to contact Bescom for assistance, but no one is available," said Rohini B, a resident.

Similar was the case with Urvashi M, another resident who found the online bill generated to be higher than the manual bill generated. She said the online bill was ₹6,000 as against her manual bill of ₹1,900. P2

Nirav loses case in UK HC on extradition

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

FUGITIVE diamantaire Nirav Modi on Wednesday lost his appeal against extradition at the High Court in London after two British lord justices upheld a district judge's ruling in favour of sending him to India.

Nirav is sought by Indian investigating authorities for fraud and money laundering for syphoning out ₹13,600 crore through fake Letters of Undertaking of the Punjab National Bank. He had cited poor mental health in his appeal, but the court ruled that the risk of his committing suicide was not such that it would be either unjust or oppressive to extradite him.

Lord Justice Jeremy Stuart-Smith and Justice Robert Jay, who presided over the appeal at the Royal Courts of Justice, found District Judge Sam Goozee's Westminster Magistrates' Court order of 2021 was sound. Nirav remains lodged at Wandsworth Prison in south-west London since his arrest in March 2019.

However, his actual extradition might not happen immediately as he can move the British Supreme Court within the next 14 days if the high court certifies that his case is a point of law of general public importance. Else, he can always approach the European Court of Human Rights.

New route connecting tech corridor to KIA to be ready soon

Better connectivity on this stretch will lead to more tech parks, hotels, businesses

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

THE Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) expects to complete an alternative route to connect the Kempegowda International Airport in Devanahalli with the Mahadevapura Zone soon.

Speaking to TNIE, Jayashankar Reddy, Executive Engineer, Road Infrastructure BBMP said, "The new road project under the Comprehensive Development Project Scheme commenced in 2018, but faced several hurdles with regard to Transferable Development Rights, and the pandemic in 2020. The said stretch is between Outer Ring Road, Kadubeesanahalli, and the BDA's proposed Peripheral Ring Road in Gunjur. The 5.3-km BBMP project connects three villages, namely Bhoganahalli, Panathur and Varthur. We have already completed 3.5 km of work and are facing hurdles over forest land near Gunjurpalya and the Railway crossing. We have written to the Railways to construct a Railway Over Bridge, while the owners of small sites at survey numbers are demanding monetary compensation. If this is addressed, heading to the airport's Terminal-2 from this stretch can be expected at the earliest."

He informed that the Palike invested only Rs 20 crore, however, in return it may receive hundreds of crores as the better connectivity on this stretch will lead to the creation of more software parks, hotels and other commercial projects. This apart, the dependency on the existing Mekhri Circle-Devanahalli route by passengers will reduce, as people from Electronics City-HSR, Sarjapur, Koramangala, Varthur, Gunjur, and Marathahalli can opt for this route to reach Terminal-2.

The official further added that the passengers coming from Sarjapur Road and the surrounding areas can enter this stretch, reach Kadugodi, head towards Bellathur, and then reach Katamnallur in Bengaluru Rural district. From here, one can drive down to Budigere Cross and then onward to Devanahalli to reach the airport. On this entire stretch so far, no cash compensation was given and the land in many parts was acquired through TDRs only, and MLA Aravind Limbavali had facilitated this by convincing the owners.

NEW POLL ROLL OUT

6.69 lakh voters deleted from BBMP limits, says Girinath

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BRUHAT Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath on Wednesday said the revenue officer and others engaged in the preparation of voter draft rolls have knocked out 6,69,652 voters from Palike limits.

Addressing reporters after the release of Special Revision of Electoral Roll-2023, the draft Electoral Roll of Bengaluru City, Girinath said, in Bengaluru, officials included 3,07,535 new names, and had made 57,517 corrections in the draft voter list. He said the highest names were deleted in Bengaluru South (45,927), while in the Rajajinagar segment, 12,575 names were deleted.

The chief commissioner further stated that there are a total of 91,15,805 voters in 28 Assembly constituencies of the city. Compared to the voters list published last January, there is a decrease of 3.76 lakh voters.

Out of 91,15,805 voters, there are 47,35,952 males, 43,79,853 females, and 925 other voters. Girinath said that if there are omissions in the draft voter list, a month's time (up to Dec. 8) has been given to file objections.

"Voters can check the list on their VHA mobile app and the National Voter Service Portal (NVSP). If there are any mistakes, objections can be submitted in Forms 6, 7 and 8, to the Returning Officer's office, Electoral Registrar's office, Assistant Registrar's office, Ward office and to the booth-level officials," he said, adding that the final voter list will be published on January 1, 2023.

He further stated that those who have completed 17 years of age, can also apply for inclusion in the electoral roll. As soon as they complete 18 years, they will be included in the electoral roll.

Meanwhile, the commissioner informed that in a bid to bring awareness among the public, a walkathon was also held in the city. He stated that currently Bengaluru has a low number of voters in proportion to its population.

Leone on admit card: Fault not with system, says DPI

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE probe into a picture of actor Sunny Leone appearing on a Karnataka Teacher Eligibility Test candidate's admit card has a twist.

According to sources within the education department, there are suspicions that the candidate had enlisted the help of her friend's husband to upload her details. "Supposedly, the candidate had given her phone to the man to fill in the details. She only raised an alarm about it after the test, which is when a police complaint was filed," they said.

The department issued a statement, rubbishing the claim that the fault was with the online registration system. "Before applying, the candidate registers with a user ID and password. The information generated is encrypted, so the department cannot access this," said the statement.

Public Instruction Commissioner R Vishal said, "The system is secure at the backend. The candidate must ensure that the information is confidential. It cannot be attributed to human error. We have filed a case to investigate who is responsible for the incident."

KARTET answer keys out

The Department of Public Instruction (DPI) published the Karnataka Teachers Eligibility Test (KARTET) answer keys for Paper-1 and Paper-2 on Wednesday. The answer keys for both papers are available on the DPI website (https://www.schooleducation.kar.nic.in/). Candidates can file objections to the answer key through the website, using their registration/application number and date of birth, as well as relevant supporting documents.

Bescom MD admits to errors in electricity bills

ADMITTING to the error, Mahanthesh Bilagi, MD , Bescom, said this was being reported from many citizens. He said it was because of technical glitches in the software and it was being observed from November 1. "The transition of change of operational services from Infosys to Infinite Solutions should have been a smooth process, but there are some errors which we are trying to set right at the earliest. Citizens are thus finding errors in their bill amount. They are requested not to pay the extra charges, but the actual charges. Since many are unable to pay online, paying bills manually would be a better option. Citizens must also raise a complaint about the difference in amounts with '1912'," he said.

No biz activity in residential areas, BBMP informs HC

ENS @ Bengaluru

The BBMP gave an undertaking before the High Court that it will not allow any commercial activities, except notified utility services, in residential areas. It also assured the court that its officials will take action against violators, as per prevailing laws. The notified utility services to be allowed in residential areas are petty shops, newspaper and stationery shops, milk booths, vulcanization shops, STD/Fax, internet, ATMs, bakeries and sweet shops, pathology labs, bank, consulting and businesses, repair centres for electric, mechanical and automobiles, etc.

The undertaking was given before the division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice Ashok S Kinagi during the hearing of PIL filed by Wilson Garden Residents' Welfare Association against commercial activities in residential areas.

In compliance with the directions, BBMP counsel V Srinidhi submitted a report stating that a team of officials had sealed 60 flower shops, as against 101 identified for running commercial activities in residential areas of Wilson Garden. The remaining 41 shops would be sealed within two weeks, he informed.

PETER VIDAL

10th November : The Sun's neat relationship with Jupiter represents hope and optimism, not to mention independence and surprises. So, you can look forward both to a pleasant few days, and a twelve-month period when you will be seeing and experiencing the world in entirely new ways.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
There are two factors to take into account today. The Moon's general indication for everybody advises caution and the tying up of loose ends. As far as you are concerned as an individual, there is an expectation that you will accomplish as much as you possibly can.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
There are pres-sures on you to get on with essential jobs, but can you really fol-low someone else's agenda? If you wish, you may give yourself twenty-four hours before leaping into action. However, there seem to be several domestic matters to be resolved before you can feel truly safe, secure and confident. And you must keep colle-agues, employers and loved ones informed.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
The lessons you are having to learn now may be making you uncomfortable, but you're not alone in feeling slightly unsettled. The simple truth is that you are being encouraged to take on more than you can handle, which may in fact be no bad thing.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
Passion is in the air as the Sun and the Moon approach a strident relationship, mixing female power with male energy. Your close partnerships are nothing if not interesting at the moment, and there really is considerable opportunity to get out and have a little fun.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
When the chips are down, you're really quite sensitive! You realise only too clearly that difficulties between you and other people are not just going to disappear, but you may find solace in the company of certain family members, perhaps younger relatives.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You've been hanging on, but you will soon hear something to your advantage. I expect that the implications may take some considerable time to sink in, but when they do then you'll realise how well off you are. Look hard enough and you'll find the silver lining!

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
If you've got your wits about you, today should prove to be productive and profitable. Most of the planets raise the question of your finances, even indirectly, and ask just when are you going to get your act together? The answer is - when you're ready!

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
It's certainly a day of extremes. On the one hand, everything really is going in your direction. On the other, it may be that you just can't put a foot right where your other half's concerned. But, then, there are few people as skilled as you at walking emotional tight ropes.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You have a tendency to overdo things. It's an emotional day and, while people around you seem to be basically well-intentioned, there will be a complete disregard for the facts - with all the risks that this entails. If you aren't up on the details yourself, then bring other people in to help.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It's a day to mix with friends and lovers, both old and new. Your social stars are often highlighted at this time of year but, this year, they are stronger than ever, so take pleasure in other people's company. You never know who is going to be important to you in the future.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You probably feel unsure about who your friends are; you've always had many acquaintances, but often few people to whom you're really close. Spare a little extra thought for family members, especially those who are younger and need your help, even if they're reluctant to ask for it.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Something deeply inspiring is going on in your life, but in a sense you've probably been here before. Foreign connections are important, but it's your mystical and spiritual dimensions which require a little more attention: the answers to a current dilemma may lie within!

NINE ARRESTED FOR GETTING PASSPORTS WITH FAKE IDS

5 Lankans, 4 agents among those held; Gang created fake Aadhaar, voter ID cards

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BASAVANAGUDI police busted a racket where agents helped foreign nationals and persons with criminal background get passports by creating fake documents. Nine people, including five Sri Lankans and four agents, were arrested.

Police said they received a police verification application for a passport by a certain Mohammed Karim in December 2020, and cleared it. However, when Pension Mohalla police in Hassan approached Basavanagudi police, seeking information about Sadiq Pasha, a habitual offender wanted in theft cases, his photo matched that of Karim. A fresh criminal case was registered against four persons on October 19, and an investigation was launched.

"Based on details provided in the police verification application, information was gathered about the passport agents and four people — two residents each of Bengaluru and Mangaluru — were arrested. One of the agents had similar cases against him in seven police stations, and was arrested earlier too. When questioned, they revealed that they created fake Aadhaar cards, voter IDs for residential proof and school transfer certificates as proof of date of birth. So far, they had helped around 50 people get passports and driving licences by giving fake documents," police said, adding that they had helped 20 people in Basavanagudi police station limits alone get passports using fake IDs.

Further, it was revealed that five Sri Lankans, including a woman, got passports by obtaining fake IDs as Indian nationals, and were arrested. "They had come to India on Sri Lankan passports. They intended to go to France to get placements as a teacher, medical assistant and drivers. As it was not easy to get a French visa due to the crisis in Sri Lanka, they got Indian passports fraudulently," police said.

Investigations also revealed that six persons with a criminal history have gone abroad using passports obtained using fake documents. "A habitual offender from Chikkamagaluru with 36 burglary cases against him, and his brother who has 15 cases -- three from Mangaluru for involvement in serious offences like murder, dacoity and extortion -- have gone to foreign countries. A detailed probe is being carried out," police added.

STUDENT SUICIDE: COPS REGISTER CASE AGAINST SCHOOL

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Sampigehalli police in the city have booked a case against the management of a private school in connection with the suicide of a Class 10 student, who died after jumping from the 14th floor of an apartment complex here on Tuesday.

Caught copying?

The police said the deceased Moin Khan (16) was caught copying in a class test and hence was asked by the teacher to stand outside the classroom, on Tuesday noon.

After a while, he left the school but had not gone home. Around 4.30 pm, he went to his house in RR Signature apartment in Balaji Layout and jumped from the 14th floor and died.

Boy's father filed case

"The boy's father has filed a complaint holding the school management responsible for his son's death. We have taken the complaint. We will question the teachers, staff and classmates to know what happened. Based on the findings of the enquiry, further action will be initiated," the police added.

Miscreants attack ASI's family, fire on son

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chikkaballapur

FOUR miscreants who gained entry into a house for robbery, opened fire in Peresandra of Chikkaballapur district on Wednesday night. The incident was reported in the house of ASI Narayanaswamy.

Sources said that four miscreants who gained entry assaulted Sharath, son of Narayanaswamy , his wife and daughter-in-law. Sharath, who sustained bullet injuries, is being treated at Chikkaballapur Government Hospital. Sources said the miscreants also snatched gold ornaments. Narayanaswamy, who entered the house, was also assaulted by miscreants, who fled the spot.

Senior police officers, including Chikkaballapur SP DL Nagesh visited the house, and a dog squad and fingerprint experts were pressed in to service.

HC orders refund of money transferred from the account of PhonePe director

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court passed an order to refund Rs 69,143 to Rahul Chari, whole-time director of PhonePe Private Limited, which was transferred from his account to the account of a complainant, Madhuri, based on an order passed by a magistrate in the city.

Justice M Nagaprasanna passed the order while allowing the petition filed by Rahul Chari and PhonePe Private Limited, challenging the order passed by the First Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate on the application filed by complainant RK Madhuri in 2021. After a debit of Rs 69,143 from his account, Rahul sought details from HDFC Bank, which informed him that it was credited to Madhuri's account, based on an order passed by the magistrate. Chari then moved the high court. Referring to the order passed in this case, the court directed magistrates to hear the suspected or accused persons, intermediaries like PhonePe in particular, before giving an order to transfer the amount, and not allowing such applications under Sections 451 and 457 of the CrPC in a casual manner.

The direction to magistrates came as the court noticed orders casually passed by magistrates in several cases for frozen and de-frozen bank accounts, and transfer of money to complainants' accounts from suspected or accused persons' accounts, without hearing them. "The magistrates are required to note that they are dealing with the properties of third parties. Decisions on such applications cannot become a frolicsome act on the part of magistrates merely because it is subject to indemnity. It is not the question of security, but the question of the right to property of an individual, from whose account the money is transferred without any information to him," the court observed.

Madhuri, a resident of Yeshwantpur, lost Rs 69,143 to an unknown person who fraudulently accessed her bank account after she contacted customer care of the e-commerce app on the number obtained on its Google website. She registered the complaint with cyber police on online financial fraud/UPI fraud with the suspect name Amith Mishra, in April 2021. Meanwhile, the court directed North CEN Police to pursue the complaint filed by Madhuri.

REVA University Celebrates 7th Convocation

First in-person convocation in REVA after a low-profile event that was held in the past 2 years

Umesh S Raju, Pro Chancellor REVA University presents a memento to former Vice President of India Venkaiah Naidu at the 7th REVA Annual Convocation.

Umesh S Raju presents a memento to Governor Thawar Chand Gehlot.

Governor Thawar Chand Gehlot, former Vice President of India Venkaiah Naidu and Dr P Shyama Raju, Chancellor REVA University present Ph.D degree award.

Premier educational institution REVA University conducted the 7th Annual Convocation on its campus on 9th November 2022. More than 4600 students were conferred degrees and 52 meritorious students and toppers from various disciplines were awarded gold medals on the occasion. Besides, 50 PhD scholars were conferred doctorate degrees during the event.

Governor of Karnataka, Thawar Chand Gehlot addressed the gathering and awarded the degrees to the students. The Chief Guest, former Vice President of India Venkaiah Naidu delivered the convocation address and extended his wishes to the graduating students.

Addressing the students bubbling with enthusiasm and energy, Venkaiah Naidu said that India must come out of the colonial mindset at the earliest and should take measures to Indianise the education system. "We should tell children stories of our forefathers and propagate the Indian culture. It is the duty of younger generation to protect our heritage," he said. Asserting the importance of education, he said, "Education is not just for a degree. It should be for enlightenment, enhancement, and empowerment."

He also stressed on the importance of giving equal status to women and men.

"Women and men should be given equal opportunities and equal share in the property. Our Prime Minister has already upheld this through the much-touted 'Beti Bachao' campaign," he added. Naidu also said that no language should be forced upon anyone. "Up to primary schools, the basic education should be in the mother tongue. I also believe that Hindi should not be forced on anyone," he said.

Congratulating all the passing out students, Governor Thawar Chand Gehlot said that as the future generation, it is their duty to be equipped with the learning that contributes towards Aatma Nirbhar Bharat. "Our Prime Minister is making a better India. I am hopeful that every student who passed out from REVA contributes to this cause," the Governor said.

This is the first in-person Convocation in REVA after a low-profile event that was held in the past 2 years due to the pandemic. With people going back to pre-COVID times, REVA considers this convocation to be a remarkable day for the students, faculty, and others alike. In alignment with Prime Minister's emphasis on the revival of handloom, REVA has pressed upon using ceremonial robes made of handloom fabrics. This was well-received among the students and faculty as they attended the function in handloom fabrics.

Congratulating the students on their achievement, Dr P Shyama Raju, Chancellor of REVA University said that this graduating batch is special to REVA as they had to go through a period where REVA offered both online and offline modes of study. "I congratulate all of you not just for your hard work but also for the determination and patience that you have shown during this tough period of your lives," said Dr Shyama Raju.

Umesh S Raju, Pro Chancellor REVA University also extended his best wishes to the students. "The world has taken a new definition and technology is moving faster. In this post pandemic age, I believe that your future will be different. But it will be bright and you will be creating a new world," said Umesh Raju.

Of the total 4632 students who graduated, 3487 students were awarded undergraduate degrees and 1094 students received postgraduate degrees. The Engineering & Technology stream recorded the highest number of degree holders (2205), while Science and Technology came second (1143). In Commerce & Management, Arts, Humanities, Architecture, and Legal Studies, the numbers are 895, 201, 73, and 114 respectively. In the 6th Convocation held last year, more than 3800 students were awarded degrees in various disciplines.

Former chief secy Sudhakar Rao to head panel to revise salaries of state govt employees

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Davanagere

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai announced here on Wednesday that the state government has constituted the Seventh Pay Commission, headed by former chief secretary Sudhakar Rao, to revise the salaries of state government employees.

He said the new commission will look at all the demands and consider all the reasons before recommending the revision of pay scales. The pay commissions are set up once every five years to revise the salaries of state government employees.

Karnataka State Government Employees' Association president Shadakshari said the Sixth Pay Commission was constituted four-and-a-half years ago and it was time that the new commission was set up. "We are happy that the government has addressed one of our main demands. We request the present chairman to go through our demands and submit the report along with recommendations at the earliest," he added.

"The present dearness allowance should be merged with the basic salary and 40 per cent fitment should be provided on the merged salary. Notional salary hike should be given from July 1, 2022 and financial provisions should be made by January 1, 2023," he said.

He requested the new commission to provide HRA, city and other allowances to the employees, as done by the Central government. Anomalies in various cadre and recruitment rules should be reconciliated and parity should be brought in across departments, he demanded.

On the financial implications to the government, he said the basic salary comes to Rs 23,908 crore and with 31 per cent dearness allowance, amounting to Rs 7,411.48 crore, the total is Rs 31,319 crore. If the new commission approves 40 per cent hike on Rs 31,319 crore, the additional financial burden on the exchequer will be Rs 12,527.79 crore.

NADAPRABHU KEMPEGOWDA, A VISIONARY, GETS HIS DUE

A security personnel on Wednesday sanitises the area near Kempegowda statue near KIA ahead of PM Narendra Modi's visit on Friday | EXPRESS

DR K SUDHAKAR

Health and Family Welfare Minister

BENGALURU and Kempegowda are inseparable. Every Bengalurean, who is born and brought up here or those who have made Bengaluru their home, will know it. Bengaluru is a vibrant city and, arguably, the most liveable city in the country.

Of course, Namma Bengaluru has its fair share of criticisms — traffic jams, bumpy roads and water logging during monsoon. But when we reach our workplaces, we are happy and proud that we have a job at a multinational technology company, our college idea for a startup is getting wings and women and children feel safe here. The city caters to everyone. It is a happening cosmopolitan city, even as it preserves its traditional vibes through events like Karaga and Kadalekai Parishe.

We owe all this to great Nadaprabhu Kempegowda, an expert in Dharmashastra, literature, grammar, philosophy and use of arms, for laying a strong foundation for what is now a vibrant and global city. The construction of a theme park and a 108-foot-tall bronze statue of Kempegowda at Bengaluru's international airport is a rich and befitting tribute to his monumental contribution to the city.

The statute, which is the world's tallest for a founder of a city, is aptly named the 'Statute of Prosperity'. Kempegowda's greatest strength was his farsightedness and vision. He set a great example in nearly every aspect of urban governance, like building the city, ensuring basic infrastructure like water and roads, facilitating trade and economic activity, aesthetics, focusing on sustainability and so on.

His mantra was 'Keregalam Kattu, Maragalam Nedu' (build lakes, plant trees). He constructed over 100 lakes and bunds to ensure adequate supply of water for drinking and irrigation. The people of Bengaluru continue to reap the benefits of his farsightedness to this day. He built 65 petes, which translate to markets in Kannada, within the city to attract merchants by providing adequate infrastructure that helped the city flourish.

To ensure all-round protection for the city, he built forts in all directions with Bengaluru Fort at the centre. He developed Basavanagudi, Dodda Ganesha, Ulsoor Someshwara and Gavi Gangadhareshwara temples.

Be it the Statue of Unity of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel in Gujarat or Netaji Subash Chandra Bose's statue at the India Gate in New Delhi, Prime Minister Narendra Modi has showed us how important it is to immortalise great men and women who built our motherland. It is important for us to educate younger generations by erecting monuments which make them aware of the greatness of Nadaprabhu Kempegowda and his legacy. It is with this intention that the BJP government has taken up the project. In addition to the statue, a theme park is also being constructed which will have an amphitheater, pathway, subway, AV exhibition system, 3D projection, fountain, flower garden and other elements showcasing the city's rich heritage.

Bengaluru attracts people from all over the country and world as it is the science and technology capital of India. The theme park will emerge as a tourist destination giving an opportunity to visitors to catch a glimpse of Bengaluru's rich heritage on the airport premises.

CLARIFY IF YOU BELIEVE IN VALMIKI: CM TO SATISH

ENS @ Belagavi

CM Basavaraj Bommai on Wednesday hit out at KPCC working president Satish Jarkiholi over his recent remarks on the origin of the word 'Hindu'.

Speaking at the BJP's Jana Sankalpa Yatra in Khanapur, Bommai asked Satish to clarify whether he believes in Maharishi Valmiki and Lord Rama. Satish hails from the Valmiki community. Further hitting out at the Congress leader, Bommai asked, "How could they (Jarkiholis) name one of their brothers Laxman, who is Lord Rama's younger brother?"He said Satish was making such statements for political gains.

Bommai said that more funds will be released to the Maratha Development Board so that the farmers and Gouli community members from Khanapur taluk can get financial support to build cattle sheds. He also said two student hostels (one for Backward Classes and one for SCs/STs) will be sanctioned to Khanapur taluk. "Talks will also be held with Belagavi Deputy Commissioner to develop an industrial zone in Khanapur to create jobs," he said. A share of water from Kalasa-Banduri project will first be given to Khanapur taluk, he said.

On BJP losing from Khanapur in 2018, he said, "We lost due to our mistakes and groupism among local leaders."

LAWYER FILES PVT COMPLAINT

An advocate filed a private complaint before the Eighth Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate court, seeking legal action against Satish Jarkiholi for "defaming the Hindu religion and provoking riots with his state-ment" on the origin of the word 'Hindu'. Advocate Dilip Kumar K filed a private complaint, seeking action under Section 153 (wantonly giving provocation with inte-nt to cause riot) and 500 (defamation) of the IPC, as Jarkiholi's statement has led to protests. "The court regist-ered the complaint and adjourned the hearing to November 18," Dharmapal, the advocate representing the plaintiff, said.

Satish withdraws 'Hindu' remark, expresses regret

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

UNDER fire over his remark that the word 'Hindu' has a 'dirty' meaning, Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) working president Satish Jarkiholi on Wednesday withdrew his statement and also expressed regret over it. In a letter to Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, Jarkiholi said the words he uttered at a programme in Nipani on Monday have led to a controversy. "I request you to form a committee to dig into the facts about the words I spoke at a programme called 'Mane Manege Budha Basava Ambedkar', organised by Manava Bandutva Vedike in Nipani. I withdraw my statement to avoid possible confusion due to the distortion of my statement. I also express regret if I have hurt anyone's sentiments,'' he said in the letter.

"What I said in my speech was that the word 'Hindu' was carved out from the Persian language and from different pieces of literature. Its meaning has been defined as 'bad'. I also underlined the dire need for a public debate on this matter,'' the letter stated.

Jarkiholi said his statement was based on facts taken from Wikipedia, various books, dictionaries and writings of historians. However, some elements with vested interests are trying to project him as anti-Hindu and are hatching a conspiracy to tarnish his image, he said. He also appealed to the CM to launch a probe against those involved in creating a controversy without knowing the facts. Jarkiholi's remarks have triggered state-wide protests by BJP and right-wing groups.

BJP launches protest against Cong leader

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

BJP workers staged protests across the state against KPCC working president Satish Jarkiholi for his controversial remarks, terming 'Hindu' a dirty word. In Bengaluru, party workers staged a protest at Mysuru Bank Circle, demanding that Jarkiholi apologise to people for insulting Hindus. They demanded that the Congress leadership take action against Jarkiholi and remove him from the party post. BJP leaders accused the Congress of resorting to appeasement politics and urged senior leaders of the party to explain their stand.

In Belagavi, Jarkiholi's home district, BJP workers took out a protest rally, burnt the effigy of the leader and demanded his resignation from the party post. In Mysuru, hundreds of BJP workers gathered near the court complex, condemning remarks of the Congress leader and demanded that he apologise for hurting the sentiments of Hindus. They urged him to refrain from making controversial statements.

In Kalaburagi, BJP and Hindu Jagruti Sene members staged protests, while party workers held demonstrations in Hassan, Kolar and several other places. They warned that they would intensify the agitation if Jarkiholi failed to tender an apology.

JDS now tries to pacify disgruntled Gubbi MLA

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Tumakuru

AFTER former prime minister HD Deve Gowda personally visited Chamundeshwari MLA and senior Janata Dal-Secular leader GT Devegowda in Mysuru and convinced him not to quit JDS, the party leadership is trying a similar strategy to pacify other disgruntled leaders.

Former minister and KR Nagar JDS MLA Sa Ra Mahesh on Tuesday visited former minister SR Srinivas, MLA from Gubbi, who was suspended from JDS after he allegedly cross-voted in the recent Rajya Sabha elections. Dr K Annadani, MLA for Malavalli, was also present.

Srinivas, who has developed a good rapport with Congress leaders DK Shivakumar and Siddaramaiah, had even taken part in Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra.

"Srinivas' quitting JDS will affect both the party and himself in the 2023 Assembly polls...," Mahesh told reporters.

Now, a section of JDS leaders is hoping that if HD Deve Gowda meets Srinivas, the latter won't quit the party.

But supporters of Srinivas, who had resigned from party organisational posts, are not ready to patch up, sources told The New Indian Express.

The reason the JDS top brass is striving to patch up with disgruntled leaders in the Old Mysuru region is that leaders quitting the party would damage the party's prospects not just in their respective seats, but also in adjacent constituencies.

Meanwhile, JDS sources said Kumaraswamy has approached former MLA CB Suresh Babu of Chikkanayakanahalli and offered him a ministerial berth if JDS comes to power, sources said.

"Congress, which has no formidable candidate in the constituency, wanted to get Babu into the party. But he is like a family member of Kumaraswamy and is not ready to quit JDS," a party leader said.

Temple-like structure: Court rejects 2 pleas of Juma Masjid

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mangaluru

A local court here on Wednesday dismissed two interim applications (IA) filed by Juma Masjid, Malalipete, seeking rejection of a suit that wanted an injunction against the mosque to stop it from dismantling a 'temple-like-structure' that emerged during the renovation of the place of worship in April. Two IAs were filed under Section 85 of the Wakf Act 1995 read with Order 7 Rule 11(d) and Section 151 of CPC and also under Section 4(1) and Section 4(2) of the Places of Worship (Special Provisions) Act 1991.

The Dakshina Kannada Zilla Wakf Advisory Committee has decided to appeal the dismissal before the high court. Committee president BA Abdul Nasir said the legal fight will continue. "We are confident of getting justice and in this regard further action will be taken after consulting legal experts and the state Wakf board,'' he said.

The court, at the same time, also extended the temporary injunction against dismantling of the old structure and posted the next hearing to December 8. The petitioner, Dhananjay, is represented by advocate M Chidananda Kedilaya. The Mangaluru city police deployed additional forces at Malali as a precautionary measure. KSRP and City Armed Reserve personnel were stationed and DCP (Law and Order) Anshu Kumar visited the spot.

VHP's Karnataka Dakshina Prantha Joint Secretary Sharan Pumpwell welcomed the court's decision and termed it the first victory for Hindu beliefs.

Even as he expressed confidence that a favourable verdict will lead to the construction of a magnificent temple, he requested mosque authorities to hand over the land to Hindus. "Thambula Prashne has clarified that Lord Shiva was being worshipped there and if the temple is not constructed, then the village will face trouble," he said. He urged the district administration to conduct an archaeological survey of the site. He said that in the coming days, they will organise 'Ashtamangala Prashne' to find out more details about the "temple that existed at the spot".

KERALA GOVT TO BRING ORDINANCE TO STRIP GUV OF CHANCELLORSHIP

Not CPM leader who can be sidelined: Guv

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@T'Puram

SWITCHING to combative mode, the state goverment on Wednesday decided to bring in an Ordinance stripping the governor off the chancellorship of universities. Arif Mohammed Khan retorted that he will refer the Ordinance to the President, indicating a natural death for the decree.

"The government's wish cannot be the law of the land. I am not a CPM leader who can be sidelined," the governor told the media. Khan said the chief minister should explain to him the reason for the promulgation of the Ordinance. Interestingly, Khan had himself favoured such a decree a few months back.

After a meeting of the state cabinet, a note from the chief minister's office said the government will recommend to the governor to promulgate an Ordinance to appoint "renowned academic experts" to the chancellor's post in various universities. The Acts governing 14 state universities will be amended to remove the provision stipulating that the governor be the chancellor.

The cabinet cited the Justice (Retd) M M Punchhi Commission report on Centre-state relations, which recommended that governors should be freed from the chancellor's role. The previous Oommen Chandy government had taken a similar stance in its response to the Commission's recommendations.

States such as West Bengal and Tamil Nadu had enacted legislations to divest the governor of the vice-chancellor's powers.

Maharashtra too had come up with such a bill but it was rolled back after a change of government in the state.

The cabinet also justified the Ordinance by stating that experts in the sector need to be at the helm of university administration to achieve the state's objective of raising the standards of its higher educational institutions to international standards.

Recently, a commission appointed by the government had recommended that the chancellor must be "a person of eminence who has distinguished herself/himself in public life."

TS GUV DROPS BOMB, SAYS SHE FEELS HER PHONE BEING TAPPED

Hyderabad: Amid the ongoing confrontation between the State government and the Raj Bhavan, Governor Dr Tamilisai Soundararajan on Wednesday dropped a bombshell. "I have a doubt that my phone is being tapped. My privacy is being infringed," she said, claiming that there was an "undemocratic situation" in the State. At a press conference, the Governor said her former ADC (aide-de-camp) Major Tushar Bhasin's name was taken in the alleged TRS MLAs poaching case by none other than Krishank, a TRS leader, on his official Twitter handle. Clarifying that Major Tushar had called her a few times to meet her to convey Diwali wishes, the Governor said, "His name was posted on social media that Raj Bhavan is involved (in four TRS MLAs' poaching case)" and sought to know why the Raj Bhavan was dragged into an unsavoury episode.

Karnataka to extend perks to gig workers soon

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

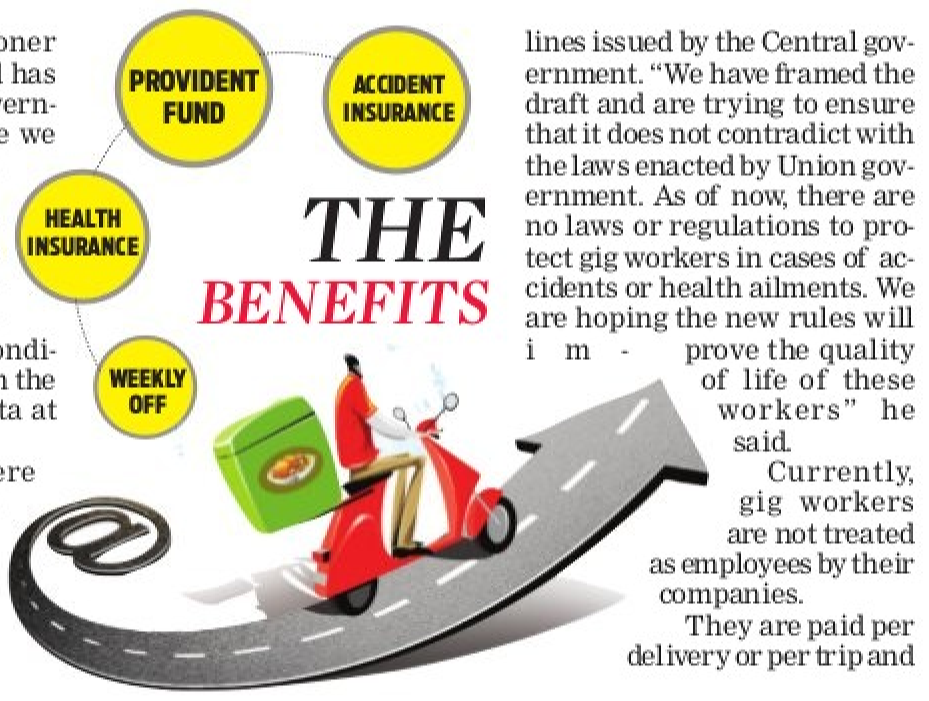
KARNATAKA government is all set to come out with a new policy under which benefits like weekly-offs, Employee's State Insurance (ESI) and Provident Fund and health insurance will be extended to those working in the unorganised sector.

The rules are being framed to provide benefits especially to gig workers, including food delivery agents and mobile-app based drivers.

According to Labour Department officials, there are over 1.6 crore people working in the unorganised sector in Karnataka. Akram Pasha, Labour Department Commissioner said the draft is ready and has been sent to the Union government for approval. "Once we get the nod, we can implement it," he said.

Speaking to The New Indian Express, Labour Minister Shivaram Hebbar said a survey is being carried out to study the conditions of the gig workers in the state. "We do not have data at present," he said.

Hebbar said they were waiting for the Union government's new labour rules which have now been released. Every state can frame its own rules as per the guidelines issued by the Central government. "We have framed the draft and are trying to ensure that it does not contradict with the laws enacted by Union government. As of now, there are no laws or regulations to protect gig workers in cases of accidents or health ailments. We are hoping the new rules will improve the quality of life of these workers" he said.



Currently, gig workers are not treated as employees by their companies.

They are paid per delivery or per trip and have to bear the cost of fuel on their own. Under the new policy, action will be taken against those employers who fail to provide facilities to their workers.

eShram portal, designed and maintained by the Union Ministry of Labour and Employment, is being used for enrolment, registration, collection and identification of the required data of all the workers in the unorganised sector, including gig workers.

So far, 71 lakh workers from Karnataka have registered their names. The applicants are mainly agriculture workers, construction labourers, garment factory employees and gig workers.

Jet fuel adulteration racket busted in Surathkal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mangaluru

THE Surathkal police and the Food and Civil Supplies Department have busted an Aviation Turbine Fuel (ATF) adulteration racket near Mangaluru and seized 16,000 litres of jet fuel and two tankers.

During a raid on a yard at Bala Ottekayar junction, officials found that the accused used to mix kerosene with jet fuel procured from refineries in Mangaluru and sell it. The accused also used to adulterate furnace oil also. The accused managed to flee.

Officials are yet to find out for what purpose the fuel was being mixed and sold.

According to the police, the fuel was stored in an underground tank. Two tankers worth Rs 40 lakh, 16,000 litres of ATF, barrels and generators were seized.

Dakshina Kannada Food and Civil Supplies Department Deputy Director Manikya said the accused, who are yet to be identified, adulterated petroleum products and sold it. "As per our knowledge, adulterated ATF fuel cannot be used anywhere other than in planes. Mostly the accused might sell it as kerosene. We do not know. We also found huge quantity of furnace oil (end byproduct of petroleum) stored under ground. The furnace oil, which is mostly used in industries, was also being adulterated and sold. The accused used to siphon fuel and furnace oil from tankers illegally at yards and then adulterate it. We will investigate how tanker drivers and owners are involved," said a police officer.

IISc to house 3D printer for silicone implants

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Indian Institute of Science (IISc), Bengaluru, will house the world's first 3D printer for implant-grade silicone, developed by Prayasta in collaboration with the Centre for BioSystems Science and Engineering (BSSE).

Prayasta's specialised 3D printer, Silimac, can directly 3D print implant-grade silicone material to make an implant within the hospital itself. Prayasta and IISc will work together to accelerate the transplantation of personalised soft tissue implants from research to hospitals, to test the 3D printability of novel materials in a fast-track mode and also to develop the necessary skills for faster market penetration of 3D printing technology.

Bengaluru: Following a letter from Rajya Sabha MP Lahar Singh Siroya, the SWR has sent a proposal to the Ministry of Railways to launch the Vande Bharat Express on three more routes — Bengaluru to Chennai, to Coimbatore, and to Hubballi. According to a circular by the Railway Ministry, the MP's request has been taken into consideration. ENS

FATHER WATCHED MINOR DROWN

AS per his confession statement, Gouda pushed his daughter into the canal and started riding his bike, while she was screaming for help. He rode for several metres watching her and left only after ensuring that she had drowned. Gouda then went to his friend's house and parked his two-wheeler. Without informing his friend, he took a bus to Tirupati in Andhra Pradesh and stayed in the temple town for some days.

Meanwhile, on November 2, the police traced the body of the girl from the Tungabhadra canal. The police and the family members had first suspected that the father too must have fallen into the canal in a suicide bid. It has come to light that the accused used to tell his friends about harming his daughter.

The police arrested the accused's friend Bhimmappa, in whose house the two-wheeler was kept.

CLIMATE CHANGE MEET MUST ADDRESS NEED FOR 'LOSS & DAMAGES' FUND

The World Climate Change Conference—or COP27 (Conference of Parties)—that has just kicked off at Sharm el-Sheikh, Egypt, has a desperate urgency about it not witnessed in the earlier editions. In recent months, rising sea levels have threatened to submerge entire island communities like in Fiji and Kiribati. Incessant flooding has killed thousands in Pakistan, with monetary losses estimated at over $40 billion. Extreme temperatures have triggered forest fires in Europe and a record-breaking 40°C heatwave this summer in London. No wonder United Nations Secretary-General Antonio Guterres, in his opening remarks at the conference, warned the world was "on a highway to climate hell".

However, there's been an important shift in the climate change discourse. The Paris Convention in 2015 made great strides in signing a treaty to reduce greenhouse emissions. Last year, at COP26 in Glasgow, there was a breakthrough when participating nations agreed to limit global warming to 1.5°C. The question being posed since then, especially by the developing nations, is: Who bears the cost of fighting climate change? Speaking in Egypt, Mia Mottley, prime minister of Barbados, told the rich nations their prosperity was built on high carbon emissions at the expense of the poor nations, and now they were being forced to pay again as victims of climate breakdown that they did not cause. She warned of a billion climate refugees around the world by the middle of the century if governments failed to tackle the climate crisis.

India has raised the same question when pressed to give up coal. The rich used coal and oil for their industrial revolution. But who will compensate India and the others for giving up these assets in favour of green energy? The answer on the table is the setting up of a 'loss and damages' fund to be financed initially by a $1 trillion contribution by the rich nations. The big boys led by the US have opposed this fund as it creates a legal liability and the potential of a rash of lawsuits in the future. Another big change is the Ukraine war. Many nations, particularly those in Europe, who had embarked on phasing out fossil fuels, have now restarted their coal-fired power plants to tide over the energy crisis. But there is a positive side: the world is finally getting down to the nuts and bolts of climate change.

CLEANSE LAW OF EXTANT ANTI-WOMEN PROBES

Sexual violence is no longer thought of as acts related to desire or lust. Feminists have argued that they may be an exercise of power and control rooted in misogyny that dehumanises some members of society. Unfortunately, the systems we've created to respond to such acts are also embedded in patriarchal values. Hence, nearly a decade after the Supreme Court banned the invasive two-finger test in medical examinations following sexual assault, the SC iterated that view again recently, warning medical professionals performing the test can face action for misconduct.

The court pointed out that the test has no scientific value, can be traumatising to a survivor of sexual assault, and is patriarchal and sexual. Indeed, the test is used to state whether the survivor is "habituated" to sex, which the court noted has no bearing on whether or not she was sexually assaulted. Acknowledging that the ruling alone may not trickle down into practice, the court also ordered the circulation of the Union government's 2014 guidelines on handling sexual assault among hospitals, the education of medical providers on the correct procedure and the review of medical curricula. While the court's focus is on the medical establishment, it is necessary that states also take it upon themselves to educate trial court judges, the police as well as the legal fraternity. The ruling should also prompt the establishment to review other antiquated practices that bear little to no value in trying cases of sexual violence and yet are followed almost by rote. One example is potency tests on those accused—including minors—in crimes of sexual violence. The test may only have value if the accused invoked impotence as a defence, yet, the test can only determine whether the person was impotent during the test. Further, when the definition of rape has been expanded beyond peno-vaginal penetration, the test can be meaningless—a throwback to the misunderstanding of sexual violence as related to desire and lust.

In light of the SC's order, the Union and state governments must also review procedures in the medico-legal handling of sexual violence, draw up better practices and educate every level of stakeholder in implementing them. Sexual violence affects the body and mind of a survivor and her family. It has long been accepted that the journey through the criminal justice system will re-traumatise her. But it should not, and the court's intervention should be an opening to do better.

QUICK TAKE

LEGALISING CANNABIS IMPRACTICAL

Germany plans to become one of the first European countries to legalise cannabis. It expects the decision to wipe out the black market, increase tax revenues and create new jobs. Sceptics advise caution. What about India, where petitions have already reached courts to decriminalise the use of cannabis? In India, where even prescription drugs are misused, and tobacco, alcohol, and areca nut abuse are rampant, legalising marijuana and hoping for its disciplined use is surreal. It will pit the younger generation that lives in an era of personal liberty against predatory commercial entities waiting to target the young as lifelong customers.

The governor is not amenable to a rational discourse and is in a hurry to unsettle the higher educational system in Kerala and seek vengeance on the vice-chancellors

THE GOVERNOR AND GOVERNMENT IN KERALA

DR T M THOMAS ISAAC

Former finance minister of Kerala

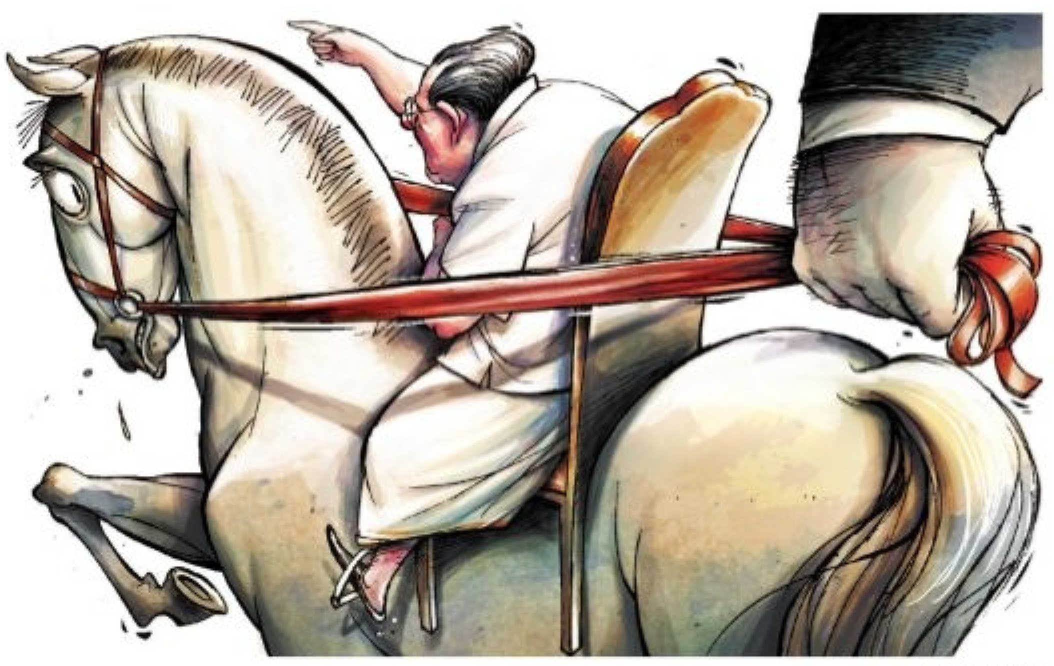
The Kerala governor is under the delusion that he is not a titular head but one with substantial discretionary powers. He warned the ministers that he would "withdraw pleasure" from those who make statements that "lower the dignity" of the office of governor. This warning, issued through a public tweet, was soon followed up by a formal letter to the chief minister, making it clear that the state finance minister had "ceased to enjoy" the governor's "pleasure" and demanding that appropriate constitutional remedy be taken.

This unprecedented action of the governor was universally condemned as unconstitutional. I have read five national newspapers editorially criticising the stand. It is true that the Constitution mandates a council of ministers to aid and advise the governor [Article 163 (1)], and the ministers shall hold office during the pleasure of the governor [Article 164 (1)].

But in between, there is Article 163 (2), which clarifies that the governor may act in discretion in certain limited matters as provided in the Constitution. It is very clear that in other general matters, the governor is bound by the advice of the council of ministers. Therefore, the governor can withdraw his pleasure with regard to a minister only on the advice of the chief minister. The Kerala chief minister immediately replied, expressing his full confidence in the minister. For him, that was the end of the matter.

Meanwhile, the governor opened up yet another war front with the vice-chancellors of universities, of which he is the chancellor. The chancellorship is not a constitutional position but one granted by the university legislation passed by the assembly. Therefore, his stand is that he has full discretion in university matters. For some time now, he has been harping on the deformities in the university system, and he received an opportunity to intervene after the Supreme Court held that the appointment of the vice-chancellor to the technical university was irregular and therefore void ab initio.

The Supreme Court was considering a private petition challenging the appointment of the vice-chancellor. The university laws provide for a search committee of three who could either submit a panel or a unanimous choice for the consideration of the chancellor.



SOUMYADIP SINHA

But the current UGC regulation stipulates that a search committee of three to five members submit a panel of three before the chancellor. In the case of the technical university, only one name had been submitted to the chancellor. The challenge was turned down by a single bench and division in the Kerala High Court. But the Supreme Court overruled these decisions while passing judgment on the special leave petition.

The Kerala government has expressed its intention for going in for a review petition. It is a settled matter that if there is concurrent legislation by the Centre and the state, the provision in the Central legislation would prevail. But in this particular case, the UGC Act passed by Parliament does not have any provision regarding the appointment of the vice-chancellor. It had been introduced as part of the UGC Regulation of 2018, and such an executive order cannot claim precedence over an Act passed by the state legislature. It is also argued that this particular judgment does not apply to the realm.

The Supreme Court of India, as late as August 2, 2022 (Dr. J. Vijayan vs The State Of Kerala), had held, "Education now being a List III subject, the State Government is at liberty to frame its own laws relating to education in the State and is not, therefore, bound to accept or follow the Regulations framed by UGC." In fact, such differences continue to exist in the statutes of universities that were legislated before the new UGC Regulation.

In short, the issue is not a settled one, but that would come under the review of the apex court.

But the governor is not amenable to a rational discourse and is in a tearing hurry to unsettle the entire higher educational system in Kerala and seek vengeance on the vice-chancellors who dared to challenge him. According to newspaper reports, he is even exploring legal grounds for impounding the emoluments they had drawn from the universities!

He lost no time in seizing the opportunity provided by the Supreme Court judgment regarding the technical university. Converting a holiday into a working day for his office, he shot off notices asking nine vice-chancellors who were selected in a similar manner to submit their resignations by 11.30 a.m on the next working day. The vice-chancellors approached the high court, objecting to the denial of natural justice, and the court upheld their prayer without prejudice to other substantial matters involved. The governor has reissued the notices demanding show cause. He is in such a tearing hurry to give temporary charges for the ousted vice-chancellors that information of all senior university professors is being gathered, disregarding university statutes that in such contingencies, senior-most professors must be given charge.

The governor is scheming for a coup d'état in the universities of Kerala. He would not abide by the advice of the council in the appointment of his representative in the search committee so that with the help of a UGC representative, the senate representative can be overruled in the preparation of the panel to be submitted to the chancellor. The Sangh Parivar has zero representation in any of the university bodies in Kerala. Now it can happen that all the vice-chancellors of Kerala could be of persuasions divergent from the ethos of the state and liberal moorings of the universities.

The only solution now left before the state government is to remove the governor from the chancellorship through an amendment in the university laws. But the governor has hinted that he would not sign such an ordinance or legislation. His counterpart in Tamil Nadu has already set an example.

What we are witnessing in Kerala is a total mockery of all democratic norms and undermining of the federal system. This situation is not something specific to Kerala alone: it is a general feature of most non-BJP-ruled states.

MESSING WITH SAXENA LEAVES KEJRIWAL IN A MESS

SIDHARTH MISHRA

Author and president, Centre for Reforms, Development and Justice

In V K Saxena, the new Lieutenant Governor of Delhi, Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal has bumped into the most serious challenge of his remarkable political journey till now. The master manipulator of public discourse, Kejriwal's politics revolves around projecting himself as the righteous underdog. This well-crafted image, honed through deft media management and spending thousands of crores of rupees on advertising, has taken a severe hit ever since Saxena took over as L-G five months ago.

Saxena, a self-proclaimed activist like Kejriwal, has given the latter a run for his money on his own pitch. Saxena's activism, sans rhetoric, has started resulting in concrete and visible work on the ground for all to see.

That he also chooses to be on the streets and communicates with the people and the media proactively has put the ever-aggressive Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) on the back foot, with little to attack Saxena with. This result-oriented and time-bound approach of Saxena to get things done is in stark contrast to the "all sound no fury" style of the Delhi CM.

What makes it difficult for Kejriwal is that the façade which he created on 'delivery' has started to crack with dents made by Saxena's approach. For the first time, there seems to be an air of disbelief vis-à-vis the claims made by Kejriwal and team through advertising blitzkriegs, bleeding the exchequer.

Be it claims of world class school infrastructure in Delhi, Mohalla clinics, Yamuna pollution, polluted drains, air pollution or 'European Roads', Saxena seems to have systematically and surely exposed the hollowness of all these campaigns. People have suddenly begun to see the truth, and all the glitter created through 24X7 advertising, blame game and rhetoric is doing little to deflect people's attention.

While Saxena is out in the field on a daily basis and seen getting a water body cleaned, a drain dredged, garbage removed, roads repaired or initiating action against the corrupt, all that AAP and Kejriwal are seen doing is finding alibis for their inaction, blaming others and abusing the opposition. The absence of governance at the grassroots is now becoming visible.

The usual Kejriwal style of propaganda—creating a campaign out of false and baseless allegations against the opposition—an art mastered since the 'India Against Corruption' days, when they targeted the then UPA government at the Centre and Sheila Dikshit in Delhi with fantastic allegations that had no basis, also seems to have come a cropper, with Saxena immediately responding to allegations and quashing them.

When AAP came out with a campaign, declaring on loudspeakers that the Municipal Corporation of Delhi (MCD) was planning to create 16 more garbage landfill sites in the capital, Saxena not only denied it categorically through a tweet, but also asked the MCD to conduct a press conference bringing the facts to the fore and lodge FIRs against those spreading false information and misleading people. The move ensured that the AAP campaign was dropped immediately. In frustration, they now say that the lieutenant governor should contest MCD elections.

PTI

> What makes it difficult for Kejriwal is that the façade which he created on 'delivery' has started to crack with dents made by Saxena's approach. For the first time, there seems to be an air of disbelief vis-à-vis the claims made by Kejriwal and team through advertising blitzkriegs, bleeding the exchequer

This was vintage Saxena operating. As chairman of Khadi and Village Industries Commission (KVIC), he got over 1,600 FIRs/cases filed against individuals and companies, including Amazon, Fabindia, Flipkart and Sundry online portals for violating the 'Khadi Mark' regulations and using the Khadi brand unauthorisedly for sale of fake khadi. The impact was immediate. Hundreds of online portals, including Amazon and Flipkart, took down the products being sold in the name of khadi and apologised officially. When Fabindia, despite apologising, continued deceptively selling fake products as khadi, KVIC moved court with a claim of ₹525 crore as compensation. It was such steps that ensured khadi's emergence as the retail behemoth that it has become today.

What has made things all the more complicated for Kejriwal is the fact that his Teflon coating that deflected all criticism seems to have been acquired by Saxena now. In attacking him, by resorting to AAP's characteristic shoot and scoot style, Arvind Kejriwal and his party seem to have made a counter-productive blunder—it became clear in the charges of corruption made by AAP and its leaders against Saxena while he was chairman of KVIC. The court order that followed, directing the AAP and its leaders to take down their defamatory posts and statements and certifying that the accusations made by them against Saxena were unsubstantiated and reckless, amounting to mud-slinging, only strengthened the charge of 'abuse and abscond' that the AAP is often charged with.

AAP and its leaders had not expected that Saxena, after serving a legal notice, will not only move a plaint of defamation but also substantiate it with ample facts and documentary evidence to unequivocally establish his credentials.

In having taken him on, Arvind Kejriwal and AAP forgot that they were messing with an individual who actually practices what they had been only preaching for years. Kejriwal would have done good to do some research on how Saxena at one point of time successfully called out the hoax of his cohort Medha Patkar and ran down the entire campaign that she had manufactured against the Narmada Dam Project. It would have helped Kejriwal and the AAP strategise better.

Kejriwal, who started with attacking the prime minister in an attempt to portray himself as the national alternative, has climbed down to always being on the defensive against missives and directions issued by Saxena.

Flowing with the times

'Quick Take' is an interesting piece because it succinctly brings to the fore important issues. It can very well be called 'mini editorial'.

The quick take, Lowering the age of consent (Nov 9), highlights the pertinent observation of the Karnataka High Court. It is time the Act is amended to suit the changing social milieu.

3:2 conundrum

Apropos of the editorial, SC verdict may not bring closure to EWS quota conundrum (Nov 9). As has been rightly pointed out, several parties will file appeals. There is one more anomaly: If a Hindu SC person converts to Christianity, then he/she loses the benefits available in the SC category. But if this person converts to Buddhism, they can still avail the benefits. This is not logical. The SC must take up this issue suo moto.

Governor vs government

Apropos of HC restrains Guv Khan, asks him to wait until it decides on VCs' challenge (Nov 9). The ongoing confrontation between the Kerala governor and the state government must be amicably sorted out. The LDF government is ignoring the rules to be followed while appointing V-Cs. Doing away with the chancellor's post shows that it is capable of taking more steps like this in the future to suit its whims and fancies.

K R Parvathy, Mysuru

Uplifting Nanguneri

Apropos of TN aims for 10L jobs, ₹75k cr with aero & def policy (Nov 9). It is laudable that investments are being made in manufacturing activities. However, Nanguneri SEZ continues to be neglected. It would be a win-win for the government and the people if investments are diverted to this SEZ at the earliest. The region awaits an early intervention. This will ensure equal growth across the state and prevent migration to metros. Will the government do the needful?

TV channels to have 30-min public service broadcasting

Govt issues new uplinking, downlinking guidelines for satellite TV

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

THE ministry of information and broadcasting on Wednesday announced relaxation in guidelines for uplinking and downlinking of satellite television channels, wherein no prior permission is needed for live telecast of any non-news event and Indian teleports may uplink foreign channels, which was prohibited until now, for downlinking abroad. The new guidelines also made it mandatory for channels to telecast content of 30-minute duration in 'national interest' for 'public service' every day, for which the I&B ministry will come up with a detailed advisory.

The ministry has made about 19 amendments to the previous guidelines released in 2011.

"Themes of national importance and social relevance for mandatory telecast of a 30-minute programme are defined in the guidelines. The government will not provide any content; the channels will select and decide themselves. We will soon issue an advisory in this regard after consultation with the stakeholders," I&B secretary Apurva Chandra said, adding that the ministry may also make provisions to monitor compliance.

Mandatory programme conditions will not be applicable to sports and foreign channels, Chandra added.

Speaking about the significance of the guidelines, Sanjiv Shankar, joint secretary, I&B ministry, said that broadcasting is the sector of strategic importance, which has to be regulated to provide a level playing field for any business to grow.

"Also the foreign investors should know beforehand what the rules are," he added.

Earlier, only a company was eligible to apply. But now Limited Liability Partnership entities can also seek permission. The option of uplinking from more than one teleport or satellite is also available.

"Specific timelines have been proposed for grant of permission. LLPs or companies would be allowed to uplink foreign channels from Indian teleports which would create employment and make India a teleport-hub for other countries," Shankar said.

NEW GUIDELINES

- No prior permission for live telecast of events
- Indian teleports may uplink foreign channels
- LLPs / companies would be allowed to uplink foreign channels from Indian teleports
- A channel can be uplinked by using facilities of more than one teleport satellite
- Specific timelines proposed for grant of permission
- A company/ LLP can use news gathering equipments other than digital satellite news gathering, such as optic fibre or mobile
- TV channels uplinking in frequency band other than C band required to encrypt their signals
- Obligation to telecast 30-minute content in national/ public interest

IMA defends Haryana MBBS students

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

EXTENDING support to the protesting MBBS students in Haryana, the Indian Medical Association (IMA) has written to the Haryana chief minister and health minister, demanding that the state scrap or modify the "atrocious" ₹40 lakh bond policy mandated by the state for undergraduate medical courses.

In a strongly worded letter, the IMA said that they stand with the protesting doctors, who were allegedly manhandled by the police, who used water cannons on them and forcefully took them to the police station.

Describing the bond policy as "ill-framed, unfair and unjust," the IMA, in its letter to Chief Minister ML Khattar, said, "We have taken note that the MBBS doctors and their families are being forced to bear an extreme financial burden owing to Rs. 40 lakh of the bond system being implemented in the state."

Dr Jayesh Lele, honorary secretary general, IMA, in separate letters to the chief minister and Health Minister Anil Vij, said that this policy sabotages the aspirational career journey of young medicos who will be forced to work for seven years without any official provision for PG/diploma study in between.

"The policy also overlooks and fails to address the shortage of placement opportunities in the state itself and therefore makes the terms of the bond almost impossible to fulfil," it said, and added, "This leads us to believe that the policy is not only framed without any brainstorming with stakeholders but also makes us question the competency of the policymakers who bring in such policies."

Denouncing the states' harshness on the demonstration by the medical students, IMA said, "The nation is in shock to note that while exercising the democratic rights to oppose such moves, the students became a victim of barbaric police action, wherein female doctors were manhandled, detained by the state police and the gathering was showered with water cannons on a cold night."

The police action on the protest has also been slammed by the medical fraternity, including various associations like the Federation of All India Medical Association, Federation of Resident Doctor's Association, Indian Medical Association-Medical Students' Network and several state resident doctors' associations, with many wearing black bands as a sign of protest, to work.

Lele said that IMA "stands in solidarity with the protesting doctors pan India and denounces the state's harshness and oppressive act" and requested the chief minister to establish a "constructive discourse at the earliest to consider the legitimate demands" and the bond policy be scraped/ modified to suit the government and students as per mutual consensus.

MBBS students protest over bond policy introduced by Haryana government | FILE PIC

Behind the bond controversy

- Students have to pay ₹40 lakh – ₹10 lakh each year for a 4-year medical course – as bond for admission to govt medical college
- Policy aims to bring more doctors to govt hospitals
- After protests, state govt changed the policy. Medical students need not pay the bond amount during admission but they have to enter a bond-cum-loan agreement with the college and the concerned bank
- State government will finance bond amount if MBBS and MD passouts join government hospitals and serve for seven years

On DeMo, SC upset with govt for not filing affidavit

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Centre on Wednesday failed to file an affidavit before the Supreme Court explaining various aspects of the decision-making process behind the government's 2016 demonetization decision. The apex court adjourned the hearing in the pleas to November 24.

Accepting the Centre's plea, a bench of Justices S Abdul Nazeer, BR Gavai, AS Bopanna, V Ramasubramanian and BV Nagarathna said, "Normally, a constitution bench never adjourns like this. We never rise like this once we have started. It is very embarrassing for this court."

AG R Venkataramani while seeking more time to file the affidavit expressed his regrets for seeking an adjournment.

Opposing the Centre's request, senior advocate Shyam Divan urged the bench to allow the petitioners challenging the policy to argue. He argued that seeking deferment of proceedings before a constitution bench has never been a practice.

While adjourning the proceedings, the court asked the Centre and the RBI to submit their affidavits within a week.

On October 12, the five-judge bench remarked that it was aware of the 'Lakshman Rekha' on the judicial review of policy decisions made by the government. Yet it agreed to consider the pleas challenging the government decision. The bench then asked the Centre and RBI to file its detailed affidavit.

The petitioner has challenged the validity of the notification dated November 8, 2016, issued under the RBI Act, 1934 on the ground that it violated Articles 14, 19, 21 and 300A of the Constitution.

On December 16, 2016, the SC's three-judge bench had refused to grant interim relief against the decision of demonetization, but had framed questions to be determined by a larger bench.

The court had also stayed the proceedings in the pleas challenging the policy, pending before HCs and had issued notice on the transfer petitions moved by the Centre.

Centre defends exclusion of converted Dalits from SC list

Defending the exclusion of Dalits who have embraced Christianity or Islam into the list of Scheduled Castes, the central government said that Christianity and Islam are historically foreign religions and thereby do not recognise the caste system as done in Hinduism. The Centre's response was filed in a batch of pleas that argued that exclusion of Christian and Muslim Dalits from the SC list was discriminatory. Currently only Dalits of Hindus, Sikh and Buddhist faith can be categorised as SCs.

'Govt vs safai karamchari?' CJI dismisses TN plea

The apex sourt on Wednesday expressed its anguish over the state of Tamil Nadu filing an appeal against Madras HC's ruling of granting relief to a sweeper in a government higher secondary school by extending him the benefit of regular appointment. While dismissing the appeal, CJI Chandrachud said, "A man served the school for 22 years. At the end of those 22 years, the person goes home without gratuity, pension... The might of the government against a Safai Karamchari? Sorry. We're dismissing."

SC asks Rampur court to consider Azam plea seeking stay on conviction

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

The Supreme Court on Wednesday directed the Additional Sessions Judge Rampur to consider on Thursday and dispose of Samajwadi Party leader Azam Khan's plea seeking stay on his conviction in a hate speech case.

A bench of CJI DY Chandrachud, and Justices Hima Kohli and JB Pardiwala also asked the Election Commission to defer the issuance of notification declaring the poll schedule of Rampur constituency and issue the same on or after November 11 depending on the outcome of the session's court order. The bench also noted that the lower court had granted him interim bail.

Chandrachud also slammed the UP government and EC for disqualifying Khan and declaring his seat as vacant without giving him time to approach the appellate court. Questioning the EC's action of failing to notify election to Khatauli Assembly constituency irrespective of the seat becoming vacant due to conviction of BJP MLA Vikram Singh Saini much Khan's conviction, the bench said, "These cases have cascading effects... You can't pick and choose."

Senior Advocate P Chidambaram had told the court that his seat was declared vacant the very next day of him being convicted.

Shah clears use of anti-drone technology to stop drug smuggling

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

CONCERNED over the frequent use of drones in Pakistan to smuggle drugs into Punjab, Rajasthan and, more recently, Jammu and Kashmir, Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Wednesday instructed the Intelligence Bureau and the internal security apparatus to make full use of anti-drone technology to stop the smuggling of narcotics from across the border.

Shah, who chaired a meeting of IB and Subsidiary Intelligence Bureau (SIB) officers here to review the internal security situation across the country, focused on "fighting terrorism as well as its support system" within India.

Stressing the need to strengthen the process of information sharing and enhancing liaison and coordination between counter-terrorism and anti-drug smuggling agencies of the states, Shah said controlling Leftwing extremism depended on "dismantling its financial and logistical support system".

While pointing out that making the country's coastal security "impenetrable", Shah said that vigilance should be extended across all ports, including the "smallest" and "isolated" ones. Since the proceeds of cross-border drug smuggling adversely affect internal security, the home minister urged greater coordination among intelligence agencies, security forces and other related organisations to ensure its "complete destruction".

India backs UN action plan for natural hazards

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

INDIA is supporting the United Nations 'Early Warnings for All Executive Action Plan' for combating natural hazards.

UN's Climate Conference, COP27, held in Egypt, was attended by Union Environment Minister Bhupender Yadav, who said that such a system would reduce vulnerability and ensure readiness and timely response to natural hazards.

"The global pace of climate mitigation is not enough to contain the rate of climate change. There is an urgent need for the world to acknowledge the cascading natural hazards that cause substantial losses around the world,'' Yadav said. With climate finance scarce, climate adaptation in the form of early warning is key in securing lives, he added.

India is spearheading the Coalition for Disaster Resilient Infrastructure, which aims to develop applications of climate forecast and early warning. The group includes 31 nations.

Electoral bonds amendment sparks row as Oppn calls it poll code breach

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

THE Centre's move to amend the Electoral Bond Scheme 2018 has evoked strong protests from Opposition parties and civil society groups.

The finance ministry on Monday issued a notification for amending the scheme to add "an additional period of 15 days" for the sale of electoral bonds "in the year of general elections to the Legislative Assembly of states and Union Territories with Legislature". The Centre also declared that the sale of electoral bonds under the 23rd tranche will take place through 29 authorised branches of State Bank of India from November 9- 15.

Usually, the electoral bonds are open only for sale on 10 specified dates in January, April, July and October. The last sale of electoral bonds took place during October1-10.

Trinamool Congress MP Mahua Moitra called it a violation of the model code of conduct, as it comes ahead of Assembly polls in Himachal Pradesh and Gujarat. "Centre yesterday notified the electoral bond sale for extra days Nov 9-15 allowing more anonymous BJP donations for Gujarat and Himachal Pradesh campaigns. Previously sale was allowed only on 10 specified dates in January, April, July and October except in Lok Sabha poll years. Clear MCC violation, Wake up ECI," tweeted Moitra. The Congress also asked why the BJP gets 70% of money from the bonds.

Opposition parties also said that the amendment was done even as the Supreme Court is scheduled to hear pleas challenging the process, filed by the Association for Democratic Reforms and the CPM, among others, on December 6.

Speaking to this daily, ADR co-founder Prof Jagdeep S Chhokar said that the amendment will open the floodgates of unaccounted money going into the political system. Chhokar added that since Assembly elections to various states are held every year, the amendment will allow 15 additional dates annually for the sale of bonds.

"This is an obvious violation of the model code of conduct, which is in force in Himachal Pradesh and Gujarat. This is another step in the direction of making the bonds available any time you want. We know that the ruling party at the Centre gets more money than any other party. There will be no level playing field for all parties," Chhokar said.

CPM general secretary Sitaram Yechury also took exception to the amendment. "The 2018 legislation had notified four tranches annually... The SC is to hear challenges to its Constitutional validity on December 6," he said.

New Law Commission likely to take up UCC

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

THE Union government has constituted the 22nd Law Commission after nearly three years amid a push from some BJP-ruled states on implementing the Uniform Civil Code (UCC) ahead of Assembly polls.

The government on Monday announced the appointment of former high court chief justice Rituraj Awasthi as the chairperson. Awasthi headed the bench of the Karnataka High Court which pronounced the verdict that hijab is not essential to Islam.

The members of the commission are Justice KT Sankaran, Prof Anand Paliwal, Prof DP Verma, Prof Raka Arya and M. Karunanithi. In 2009, Justice Sankaran of Kerala High Court had propounded the theory of "love jihad" in the country for the first time.

The setting up of the panel assumes significance as Law Minister Kiren Rijiju told Parliament in February that the Commission will examine issues related to UCC. However, experts say that as the Commission's term ends in three months, it will be pressed for time to deal with the issue. The tenure of a law commission is three years and the panel was notified in February 2020.

The Law Commission has been inactive since the term of the 21st Commission, headed by retired judge B S Chauhan, ended on August 31, 2018. It had prepared a report titled 'Reform of family law' on UCC after consultation with various stakeholders, which suggested that UCC is neither necessary nor tenable at this stage.

Chauhan says three months is a short time for any commission to look into framing a common law, and the government may consider reappointing the panel after its term is over. "Our panel took two-and-a-half years to prepare a working paper on UCC. It needs wide consultation as it deals with personal laws of various religious communities," he said.

Malabar 2022: Quad navies begin exercise

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Multilateral Exercise, Malabar 2022, between the Quad navies India, Japan, United States and Australia began on Wednesday with an opening ceremony hosted by the Japanese Maritime Self Defence Forces (JMSDF) on board JS Hyuga at Yokosuka in Japan.

"Malabar-22 will witness high-tempo exercises between participating platforms in multiple domains. Complex surface, sub-surface and air operations, including live firing drills are scheduled," the Indian Navy said.

Rear Admiral (Adm) Sanjay Bhalla, Flag Officer Commanding Eastern Fleet, is leading the Indian team. The warships participating this year include nuclear powered carrier, cruisers and destroyers. The Indian Navy has sent its warships Shivalik and Kamorta, indigenously designed and developed multi-role Guided Missile Stealth Frigate and Anti–Submarine Corvette, respectively.

Cong for corruption, Modi tells voters

Says changing govt not in HP people's interest, stresses double-engine for double benefits

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chandigarh

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday linked the Congress with "instability, corruption and scams," asserting that Congress cannot give a stable government in Himachal Pradesh.

"The state needs a strong and stable 'double-engine' government of the BJP," he said.

In an election rally at Chambi in Shahpur constituency of Kangra district, Modi said when the BJP is re-elected, it would become more accountable. "Therefore, changing the government is not in the interest of the people," he said, adding the BJP would implement its promises, believing that it would do whatever it can.

"Only a double-engine government can overcome all challenges and achieve new heights," he said.

Kangra district has 15 assembly segments, the highest in the state with 68-member Assembly.

Modi said that if Congress was elected to power, the state's development would suffer. He accused the Congress of betrayal, saying it had worked to obstruct the state's progress even after he became the PM.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi waves at supporters during a public meeting at Chambi in Himachal Pradesh on Wednesday | PTI

"You said goodbye to them five years ago. Do not allow them to enter again,'' he said.

Taking a dig at the Congress, Modi said the party is in power in only two states, Rajasthan and Chhattisgarh. "You have ever heard of any new development plans from these states. What you get to hear are reports of Congress' feuds. Can a state develop in such a situation?" he asked.

Giving examples of UP, Bihar, Tamil Nadu and West Bengal, Modi said for decades people have not elected the Congress to power in as the people's anger was high against the party.

While referring to Uttarakhand and Uttar Pradesh where BJP governments have been re-elected, he said the people's trust in the BJP has grown as the party is identified with "good governance and for its pro-poor policies."

Accusing the Congress of insulting the Army Chief and likening soldiers to goons, at another rally at Sujanpur in Hamirpur district, PM Modi said the party had raised questions on surgical strikes which were targeted at terror camps in Pakistan. "We have also opened the doors of Sainik Schools for women, as Congress had neglected them."

Speaking at a rally, Union Information and Broadcasting Minister Anurag Singh Thakur spoke about the work done by the Modi government for the soldiers and farmers. "Our government is working with the motto 'Jiye Jawan, Jiye Kisaan'. The PM has a special place for soldiers and farmers. He honoured the soldiers by fulfilling the long pending demand of 'one rank one pension'. The PM considers the soldiers of the country as his family and that is why he always celebrates his Diwali with them," said the Minister.

The minister also talked about the subsidy being given on fertilizers. "This year saw an exponential increase in fertilizer prices worldwide. But Modi-ji did not let it burden the farmers of India," he said.

Meanwhile, an ambulance was given way by the cavalcade of the PM Modi as he was on his way back to the airport after attending the election rally in Chambi of Kangra. Sharing a video clip, the Himachal BJP tweeted: "In Chambi, Kangra, PM stopped his cavalcade to give way to an ambulance.''

Ready to pay with my life, but won't allow CAA, says Mamata

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

TWO days after Prime Minister Narendra Modi mentioned the Citizenship Amendment Act (CAA) while addressing a rally in Himachal Pradesh, West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Wednesday slammed the BJP, accusing the saffron camp of sparking a debate on the contentious Act whenever elections approach.

"Whenever elections are around, BJP speaks of implementing CAA, NRC (National Register of Citizens) and try to confuse people," said Mamata, while addressing a rally in Krishnagar, Nadia.

The Trinamool Congress chief referred to the development in Gujarat where ahead of the announcement of dates of Assembly polls, the Ministry of Home Affairs has empowered district collectors to grant citizenship certificates to the members of Hindu, Sikh, Parsi, Christian, Buddhist and Jain communities from Pakistan, Afghanistan and Bangladesh.

Mamata's remark is said to be politically significant as the venue of the rally in Nadia district, which has significant electorates of Matuas, Hindu refugees from Bangladesh. The BJP caused a sharp dent in TMC's Matua vote-bank in the 2019 Lok Sabha polls.

Eyeing to woo the electorate, who came from Bangladesh and settled in the district, Mamata said, "Whenever elections are around, they (BJP) remember about Matuas. I am telling my Matua brothers and sisters nobody can snatch away your citizenship, I am ready to pay with my life but won't allow them to snatch your citizenship."

The TMC government in West Bengal opposed implementation of CAA and the state witnessed large-scale violent protests.

Referring to the BJP's impressive performance in the 2019 Lok Sabha elections by bagging 18 out of 42 seats, she said the situation is different now. "The BJP will not come to power in 2024. I am not saying this but people are saying. Do you think they will get all the seats? No calculation says so," she said.

C'garh plans special Assembly session on reservation for tribals

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

CHHATTISGARH Governor Anusuiya Uike on Wednesday signed the proposal to convene the state Assembly session on December 1 and 2. The session will deliberate on the issue of tribal quota, which has raised the political heat in the state after the high court had struck down the 58 per cent reservation in educational institutions and jobs as and termed it "unconstitutional".

With the court order, the reservation for tribals has come down from 32 per cent to 20 per cent and for the SCs the percentage has gone up from 13 per cent to 16 per cent while 14 per cent remaining for the OBCs.

Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel had earlier in the day revealed on his twitter handle the state government's plan for a special session of the House and urged the Speaker Charandas Mahant for a two day session on December 1-2. The governor, using the power under Article 174 of the Constitution, approved the recommendation to call the Assembly session.

Earlier this month, Uike had written to the CM to convene a session of the Assembly and pass a bill or seek the resolution of the contentious reservation problem through an ordinance if possible. She said that there is resentment brewing among the tribal communities and the law and order situation can arise.

The politics on the tribal reservation issue has gathered steam after the court's order ahead of the Assembly elections due next year. On Wednesday, the opposition BJP staged 'chakka jam' at different places in the state demanding the restoration of the 32 per cent reservation of the ST.

Baghel blamed the previous BJP regime for the present impasse faced in the reservation of tribals. "We are committed to secure the rights of the ST and their due quota. The government will also put across the state's perspective in the Supreme Court in the context of 58 per cent reservation," said the CM.

'No connect', BJP may drop 15 MLAs

RAJESH K THAKUR & DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ New Delhi/Ahmedabad

IN a bid to escape the shadow of anti-incumbency of six terms, the ruling BJP is learnt to have decided to drop at least 15 of its sitting MLAs in Gujarat for the two-phase Assembly elections due December 1 and 5. The denial of nomination could stem from the party's perception of a strong undercurrent of anti-incumbency against the MLAs owing to their poor performances and loss of touch with the popular sentiment in their respective assembly segments.

Party sources said in Delhi on Wednesday that an in-principle decision has already been taken with proper consultation among the top brass of the party at a meeting at the residence of BJP chief JP Nadda on Tuesday. "Winnability along with an index of anti-incumbency has been measured by the party's internal wings ahead of the polls," said a senior party source. The BJP has 111 members in the 182-member of Gujarat assembly.

Sources hinted that the party leadership does not want to take any chances on the winnability criterion. "Speculation is that some aged top leaders and sitting MLAs who have rarely frequented their constituencies will be denied the ticket," said a senior party source.

Vijay Rupani

Nitin Patel

Meanwhile, four senior BJP leaders, — former CM Vijay Rupani, former deputy CM Nitin Patel, former education minister Bhupendrasinh Chudasama and Pradipsinh Jadeja, sitting MLA from Vatva assembly segment, have voluntarily decided not to contest the elections. They have sent their letters to the party leadership. Pradipsinh Jadeja is the party's 4-time MLA and former state home minister. He has expressed his willingness to work for the party. Sources said that the party's eight more leaders, who were ministers during the Rupani government, are likely to decide not to contest the state elections.

The decision of the party's Central Election Committee, which met on Wednesday, would be final, party sources said. The CEC also saw the participation of Prime Minister Modi, Home Minister Amit Shah, party chief JP Nadda and incumbent Gujarat CM Bhupendra Patel.

Meanwhile, the process of deciding panels for the party candidates is complete. Sources said a meeting was held in the state to finalize a panel of three candidates per assembly seat in the presence of Amit shah.

"A shortlist of candidates prepared at that meeting has been brought to Delhi by state party chief CR Patil. It will be to put up for the final approval at Central Election Committee meeting", said a party source.

Sources said that new young faces will be given a chance after dropping sitting MLAs. "Among probable news faces, prominent names doing the rounds are of Hardik Patel (who has recently joined the party), Alpesh and cricketer Ravindra Jadeja's wife- Rivawa Jadeja," said a source, adding the names of candidates for the first phase will be released after approval of the CEC by Thursday.

Gopal Italia to contest from Katargam

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE@ Ahmedabad

The Aam Aadmi Party's Gujarat unit president Gopal Italia will contest the upcoming state Assembly election from Katargam in Surat district, while party's Gujarat state general secretary Manoj Sorathiya will contest election from Karanj in Surat district, AAP national convener Arvind Kejriwal said on Wednesday. Besides, AAP also released a list of star campaigners for the upcoming Assembly polls. The party has so far announced the names of its 158 candidates. The polls will be held in two phases on December 1 and 5.

Kejriwal said, "The participation of youth in politics is necessary... I give my best wishes to both the youth leaders."

Italia said, "The Aam Aadmi Party has entrusted a very big responsibility to a simple young man like me... If there is one ticket and five friends are competing for one ticket, then naturally the other four friends will be unhappy. We have requested all the people to try to move on and now work to strengthen the party," he added.

Gadkari to visit Siliguri next wk for infra push

Union Minister for Transport and Roadways Nitin Gadkari will visit Siliguri next week to launch the construction of the proposed 13 km four-lane elevated road along NH10 in the northern end of the city. The visit is said to be a part of the BJP's plan to project that the party is keen on executing major infrastructure projects in north Bengal, where the saffron camp made deep inroads in 2019 Lok Sabha polls. "The central government has sanctioned around Rs 1000 crore for the road project that will ease traffic congestion, a major problem in Siliguri. The Union Minister will be here on November 17 to initiate the project,'' said Raju Bista, the BJP's MP from Darjeeling.

Ex-contractor's workers shut mess in IIM-C

Students at IIM Calcutta alleged that after the students' council decided to bring in a new mess contractor for a hostel, workers of the former contractor forcibly shut down the mess of all hostels on the campus. The students said the workers protested at the institute's main gate and prevented food delivery personnel from entering the campus on Tuesday. The new contractor, who was hired on November 4, is in- charge of New Hostel. The students alleged that mess services were shut down at Old Hostel, White Hostel and Lake View Hostel. An official of the institute said, "We are trying to resolve the situation as early as possible."

Kolkata civic body to hike property tax

The Kolkata Municipal Corporation has decided to increase property tax by 20 per cent for those properties whose tax has not been reassessed since 2012, said an official of the civic body. The property owners will be given a final chance to self-calculate their tax under the unit area assessment, the new system of tax calculation that was introduced in 2017, and submit it to the civic body by December 13. If they fail, their next tax bill will be prepared with a 20 per cent hike over the previous amount and it will be considered that they have shifted to the unit area assessment method, the official said.

RAUT GETS BAIL AS COURT FINDS HIS ARREST ILLEGAL

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

SHIV Sena (Uddhav Balasaheb Tahckeray) leader Sanjay Raut on Wednesday walked out of Mumbai's Arthur Road Jail after spending 102 days behind bars, as a special PMLA court here granted him bail in an alleged money laundering case.

The court pulled up the Enforcement Directorate (ED) for arresting the Shiv Sena MP illegally and "for no reason".

It also granted bail to Raut's aide and co-accused Pravin Raut. While granting the bail, the court passed scathing observations against the ED, terming the arrests "illegal" and a "witch-hunt", adding that the federal agency seems to be adopting a pick-and-choose strategy while arresting people in money laundering cases. Special judge M G Deshpande questioned why the main accused in the case, Rakesh and Sarang Wadhawan of real estate firm HDIL, were never arrested.

Raut was arrested on July 31, 2022 after the ED alleged he, through his proxy Pravin, received ₹3.27 crore from Guru Ashish Construction Pvt Ltd. According to the ED, this included money routed through bank channel as well as through cash transactions. The court observed that the ED arrested Pravin purely for a "civil dispute" and Sanjay for "no reasons".

"Basically, there was no reason nor any occasion to arrest both of them under Section 19 of the PMLA for the allegations which are basically nothing but a civil dispute," the court said.

After the order was pronounced, the ED pleaded before the court for a stay on Raut's release saying the agency was moving the Bombay High Court. However, the special court rejected the request and directed jail authorities to release the politician on Wednesday itself.

Scientists: Strong likelihood of big earthquake in Himalayan region

NARENDRA SETHI @Dehradun

THE continuous energy accumulation below the Eurasian plate above the Indian plate is of great concern as it can result in a major earthquake that has not occurred in the past 200 years, scientists on Wednesday said.

Tremors were felt in Uttarakhand after a strong 6.6-magnitude earthquake jolted the remote mountainous region of western Nepal early Wednesday, killing six people.

The tremors were felt across the hill state, including in Pithoragarh, Bageshwar, Almora, Champawat, Udham Singh Nagar, Nainital, Rudraprayag, Chamoli, Tehri, Pauri, Haridwar, Uttarkashi and Dehradun districts.

The epicenter of the earthquake was located around 90 km from the border district of Pithoragarh.

Scientists have expressed concern over the continuous tremors felt in the mountainous areas of Uttarakhand, especially the belt of Uttarkashi district, which falls in the category of seismically sensitive class 5.

Speaking to this newspaper, Dr Ajay Paul, senior scientist at Wadia Institute of Himalayan Geology, said, "The collision of the Indian plate and the Eurasian plate resulted in the eruption of the Himalayan plate. The Indian plate beneath the Eurasian plate is subject to thrusting, the phenomenon is being monitored by GPS.

"Moving down the Indian plate is causing accumulation of strain energy. Strain energy is released in the form of earthquakes. It is a natural phenomenon. Accumulation of energy is also a continuous process. This energy is released in the form of earthquakes. We can say a major chunk of energy is released by great earthquakes," added Paul.

According to the research of Dr. Paul, "Be prepared, conduct mock drills and carry out earthquake-resistant construction activities to minimize and avoid damages."

"After the Kangra earthquake of 1905 and the Bihar earthquake of 1934, an earthquake of magnitude between 6 and 7, classified as 'large', or above 8 called 'great', is pending in the Central Seismic Gap," added Paul.

According to Wadia scientists, four major earthquakes were recorded in the Himalayan region over the past 150 years, including the tremors in Shillong in 1897, in Kangra in 1905, in Bihar-Nepal in 1934 and in Assam in 1950.

GOP poised to carve out slim majority in House as Dems put up stronger-than-expected performance | Senate remains in play with four key races yet to be called; control may hinge on Dec runoff in Georgia | Victory for more than 100 Republicans embracing Trump's claim that 2020 election was stolen

Many firsts in new Congress

From the first openly lesbian governor to the first Generation Z member-elect of Congress, early results in the US midterms heralded a good night for diversity. Here are some of the historic firsts from this year's midterm elections

MAURA HEALEY

In Massachusetts, voters elected Democrat Maura Healey as America's first openly lesbian governor, television networks projected. Healey will also become Massachusetts' first ever female governor

MAXWELL FROST

Democrat Maxwell Alejandro Frost became the first member of Generation Z to win a seat in Congress. Frost is among six newcomers to the US House in Tuesday's vote from Florida

KATHY HOCHUL

Democrat Kathy Hochul has become the first woman elected New York governor. Hochul, a Buffalo native, had been expected to win in a state where there are more than twice as many registered Democrats as Republicans

WES MOORE

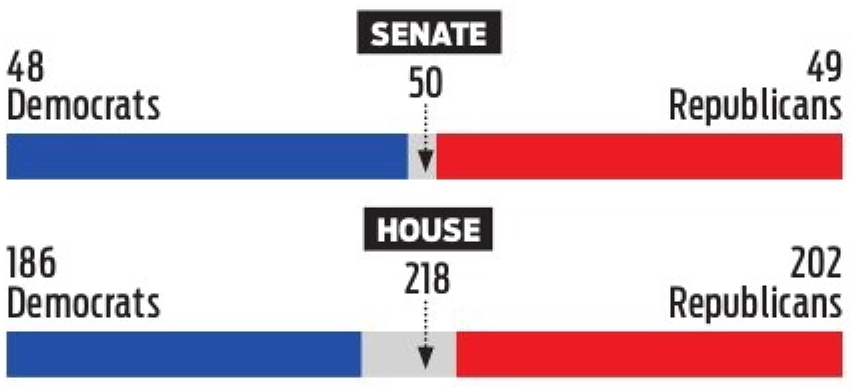
Democrat Wes Moore was elected Maryland's first Black governor. Moore's victory flips a governor's office from Republican to Democratic. Only two other Black politicians have ever been elected governor in the United States — Virginia's Douglas Wilder in 1989, and Deval Patrick of Massachusetts in 2006

JAMES ROESENER

New Hampshire became the first in US history to elect a transgender man to a state legislature. Democrat James Roesener won't become the first openly trans lawmaker as a number of transgender women have been elected before

MARKWAYNE MULLIN

Republican Markwayne Mullin became the first Native American in the US Senate since former Senator Ben Nighthorse Campbell of Colorado left the Senate in 2005



WASHINGTON

RAZOR-THIN margins around the country left control of Congress still undetermined on Wednesday, but Democrats showed surprising strength in the midterm election, topping Republicans in a series of competitive races and defying expectations that high inflation and President Joe Biden's low approval ratings would drag his party to key defeats.

Republicans appeared poised on Wednesday to carve out a majority in the US House of Representatives.

With four key races yet to be called after Tuesday's vote, the Senate remained in play but it was leaning Democratic and control may hinge on a runoff election in the southern state of Georgia in early December.

In the most heartening news for Democrats, John Fetterman flipped Pennsylvania's Republican-controlled Senate seat that's key to the party's hopes of maintaining control of the chamber.

It was too early to call critical Senate seats in Wisconsin, Nevada, Georgia and Arizona that could determine the majority. In the House, Democrats kept seats in districts from Virginia to Kansas to Rhode Island, while many districts in states like New York and California had not been called.

Democrats also were successful in governors' races, winning in Wisconsin, Michigan and Pennsylvania — battlegrounds critical to Biden's 2020 win over Donald Trump.

But Republicans held on to governors' mansions in Florida, Texas and Georgia, another battleground state Biden narrowly won two years ago.

Votes were still being counted across the country, meaning Republicans could still emerge with control of both chambers of Congress. But there was no strong GOP surge, uplifting for Democrats who had braced for sweeping losses.

Representative Kevin McCarthy, the Republican poised to be House speaker if the GOP takes control of the chamber, was optimistic, telling supporters, "When you wake up tomorrow, we will be in the majority." Democrat speaker Nancy Pelosi countered saying, "It is clear that House Democratic Members and candidates are strongly outperforming expectations across the country."

WHITE HOUSE'S MIDTERM MISFORTUNES

A president's party has gained seats in the House only twice at midterm elections since 1994. With Barack Obama in the White House, Democrats lost 64 seats in the 2010 elections. Under Joe Biden, the party is poised for a more moderate loss

YEAR	PARTY	PRESIDENT	NET GAIN/LOSS FOR PARTY
1994	Democrat	Bill Clinton	-52
1998	Democrat	Bill Clinton	+5
2002	Republican	George Bush Jr	+8
2006	Republican	George Bush Jr	-30
2010	Democrat	Barack Obama	-64
2014	Democrat	Barack Obama	-13
2018	Republican	Donald Trump	-42

Relief for Biden ahead of 2024

WASHINGTON

JOE Biden's Democrats seem to have escaped a feared drubbing in Tuesday's midterm elections, but it remains to be seen whether that will revive the US president's flagging fortunes until 2024 — or beyond.

The 79-year-old, who framed the race as a clash between defenders of democracy and the "extremist" camp of Donald Trump, spent election night in back-to-back calls with Democrats savouring their wins in Senate, House and gubernatorial races around the country.

"Just got off the phone with some of tonight's winners — including some folks I saw on the road this year," Biden tweeted as the results came in — alongside a picture of himself in a turtle neck and baseball cap, seeming happy to take at least some of the credit. White House staff, according to the former press secretary Jen Psaki, were "giddy and gleeful" as results came in.

The outcome taking shape was far from ideal for Democrats, who stand to lose the House of Representatives in what Biden has admitted will make his life much more "difficult" — likely hobbling parts of his agenda.

But if overnight predictions hold and the Democrats lose the House by a handful of seats, with the Senate still in play, Biden's camp will have vastly outperformed expectations.

The president's party has traditionally lost seats in midterm elections and with Biden's approval ratings stuck in the low 40s, and sky-high inflation topping voter concerns, Republicans had high hopes of seizing both chambers of Congress in a "red wave."

Such a drubbing would have raised tough questions on whether America's oldest-ever president, who turns 80 this month, should run again.

Instead Biden stands to emerge in much better shape than either of his Democratic predecessors, Barack Obama or Bill Clinton, who both took a hammering at the midterms.

Nevertheless, Biden will be headed into choppy waters if the House flips.

In a country whose divisions run deeper than ever, even a longtime senator and moderate Democrat like Biden will likely struggle to find common ground with a Republican-led chamber. Large parts of his legislative agenda could utterly stall as a result. Another open question is whether a new Republican leadership would keep its promise to aggressively hold the president to account.

That could easily translate into endless congressional investigations targeting Biden, his record and his family. Far-right Representative Marjorie Taylor Greene, has already promised stepped-up scrutiny of Biden's son Hunter. AFP

Record 5 Indian-Americans elected to US House

WASHINGTON

A record five Indian-American politicians from the ruling Democratic Party, including Raja Krishnamoorthi, Ro Khanna, Ami Bera and Pramila Jayapal, are headed to the US House of Representatives on Wednesday following the highly polarised midterm elections. The new US Congress will begin in January next year.

Apart from these five politicians, many others from the community won across the country to state legislatures. The current House of Representatives has four Indian-American lawmakers and they all are Democrats Bera from the sixth Congressional district of California, Khanna from the 17th Congressional District of California, Raja Krishnamoorthi from the eighth Congressional District of Illinois and Pramila Jayapal from the seventh Congressional District of Washington State.

For his fourth consecutive term, Khanna swept the 17th Congressional District with more than 70%of the votes polled against his Republican rival, Indian American Ritesh Tandon. Krishnamoorthi, 49, won his fourth consecutive term by defeating Republican candidate Chris Dargis by a margin of over 12% of the votes.

Krishnamoorthi, who was attacked by right-wing Muslim fundamentalists during the election campaign, in his victory speech called on all candidates everywhere to 'denounce violence and bigotry' and 'focus on what we share in common as Americans.'

"Whatever side you're on in this election, those on the other side are not your enemy," he continued. "We are all Americans, and we must work together on behalf of a better and stronger nation," he said. PTI

Strikes against inflation across Europe

BRUSSELS: European workers squeezed by the soaring cost of living went on strike in Belgium and Greece on Wednesday, with more stoppages threatening to paralyse parts of Britain, France and Spain in coming days. Spreading industrial unrest poses a problem for governments which are already spending billions trying to blunt the worst effects of rising prices, at least for the most vulnerable. Europe is acutely affected by the fall-out from the war in Ukraine, which is exacerbating a global energy crisis, inflation and a scarcity of some food products. Belgium and Greece saw general strikes on Wednesday, disrupting transport in their respective capitals, impacting businesses. In Brussels, home to the European Commission and other EU institutions, workers were protesting inflation running higher than 12% -- well above the 10.7% average across the eurozone. In Greece, ferries serving its many islands were among the transport lines halted by a general strike, the second to hit the country since September. Stoppages were to be felt on Thursday in Britain and France, with the underground urban rail networks and buses to be severely affected.

Tata Motors' net loss narrows to ₹945 cr in Q2

While the losses have come down annually and sequentially, it is still much more than the street estimate

ARSHAD KHAN @New Delhi

AUTO major Tata Motors continues to report losses.

This time, the home-grown firm reported a consolidated net loss of ₹945 crore in September quarter (Q2FY23) as against a net loss of ₹4,442 crore in the year ago quarter (Q2FY22). In the preceding June quarter, Tata Motors had reported a consolidated net loss at ₹5,007 crore.

While the losses annually and sequentially have come down, it is still much more than street estimate.

Some analysts were even expecting the Mumbai-based auto company to report profit. Tata Motor's revenue grew by nearly 30% year-on-year to ₹79,661 crore in Q2FY23, while its operating margin improved 130 bps to 9.7%.

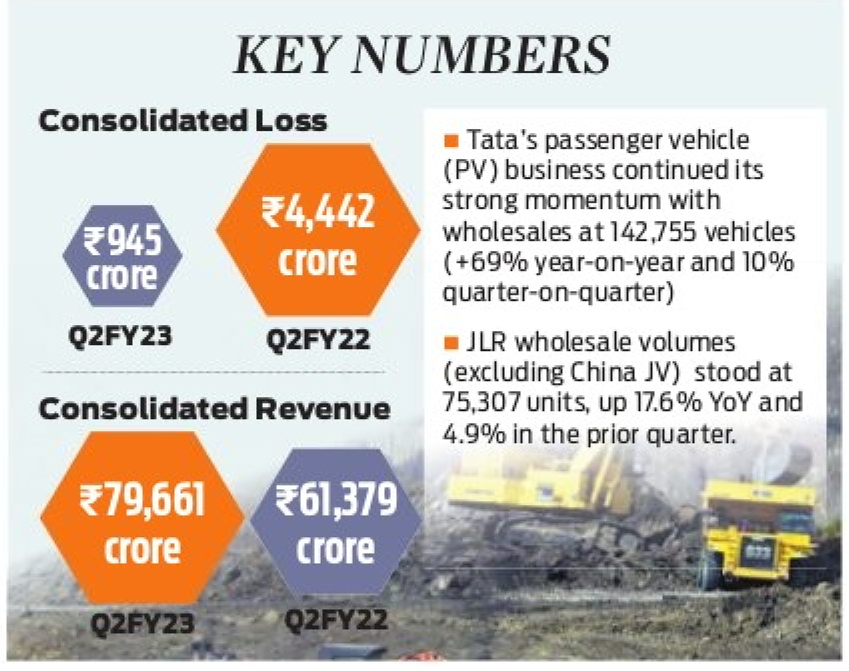
Meanwhile, Tata Motors will delist its American Depositary Shares (ADS) from the New York Stock Exchange.

The company said there has been a consistent drop in the number of ADSs outstanding as a percentage of its outstanding ordinary shares. Sales-wise, Tata's passenger vehicle (PV) business continued its strong momentum with wholesales at 142,755 vehicles (up 69% YoY and 10% QoQ). Tata Motors' commercial vehicle (CV) global wholesales stood at 103,000 units (+15% YoY).

JLR wholesale volumes (excluding China JV) stood at 75,307 units, up 17.6% YoY and 4.9% QoQ, on account of improvement in semiconductor supply even as it was lower than planned. Jaguar Land Rover (JLR) business, which accounts for over half of Tata Motors' consolidated revenue, reported a 36% YoY growth in revenue in Q2FY23 to £5.3 billion.

Thierry Bolloré, JLR's chief executive officer, said: "Demand for our most profitable and desired vehicles remains strong and we expect to continue to improve our performance in the second half of the year, as new pacts with semiconductor partners take effect, enabling us to build and deliver more vehicles to our clients."

KEY NUMBERS



- Tata's passenger vehicle (PV) business continued its strong momentum with wholesales at 142,755 vehicles (+69% year-on-year and 10% quarter-on-quarter)
- JLR wholesale volumes (excluding China JV) stood at 75,307 units, up 17.6% YoY and 4.9% in the prior quarter.

Govt to sell 1.55% stake in Axis Bank, to garner ₹4K cr

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE government is all set to exit Axis Bank as the Specified Undertaking of the Unit Trust of India (SUUTI) plans to sell 1.55% stake or 4.65 crore shares in Axis Bank through an offer for sale (OFS), the bank said in an exchange filing.

The floor price of the OFS has been fixed at ₹830.63 a share, which is ₹43.62 lower than the last traded price of ₹874.35. The government, at the current market price, is expected to realise about ₹4,000 crore from the share sale.

The OFS will open for subscription on November 10, 2022, and will close on November 11. Both retail and institutional investors can participate in the OFS. 10% of the total shares under the OFS will be available for retail investors.

Shares held in dematerialised form in one or more demat accounts with the relevant depository participant will be offered for sale on November 10, 2022, (T day) for non-retail investors only and on November 11 (T+1 day) for both retail and non-retail investors, Axis Bank said in the regulatory filing.

In May last year, the government sold 1.95% stake in Axis Bank, held through SUUTI, for a consideration of about ₹4,000 crore. The OFS would help the government get closer to its disinvestment target of ₹65,000 crore in the current financial year. In the first six months of the current year, the government has managed to raise only ₹24,590 crore.

SUUTI was carved out of the erstwhile US-64 scheme of the Unit Trust of India (UTI) in 2003. The government transferred the holdings of the companies held by UTI to a separate company, SUUTI. SUUTI has stakes in over 40 listed and half a dozen unlisted companies. Apart from Axis Bank, SUUTI has 91.44% stake in UTI Investment Advisory Services and 100% stake in UTI Infrastructure Technology and Services.

FOREIGN TRADE

Govt amends policy to enable INR settlement of global trade

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

IN a bid to ease international trade transactions, the government has made changes to the foreign trade policy to facilitate trade settlement in Indian rupee for export promotion schemes.

"….changes have been introduced under Para 2.53 of the Foreign Trade Policy, for grant of exports benefits/fulfilment of export obligation under the Foreign Trade Policy, for export realisations in Indian rupees, as per the RBI guidelines dated July 11, 2022," Commerce ministry said in a statement on Wednesday.

According to the statement, the changes have been notified for imports for exports, export performance for recognition as status holders, realisation of export proceeds under advance authorisation and duty-free import authorisation schemes, and realisation of export proceeds under export promotion capital goods scheme.

"Accordingly, benefits/fulfilment of Export Obligation under the Foreign Trade Policy has been extended for realisations in Indian rupees as per the RBI guidelines dated July 11, 2022. Given the rise in interest in internationalisation of Indian rupee, the given policy amendments have been undertaken to facilitate and to bring ease in international trade transactions in Indian rupees," it further said. The Reserve Bank of India (RBI), on July 11, had announced setting up of a mechanism to settle international trade transactions in Indian rupee.

Govt finalises sovereign green bond framework

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

IN line with its commitment to preserve environment, the government on Wednesday said it has finalised the sovereign Green Bonds (SGrBs) framework.

The proceeds raised through these bonds will be used to invest in solar, wind, biomass projects and incentivise adoption of renewable energy.

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman presenting the Union Budget 2022-23 had announced the government's plan to issue SGrBs as part of its overall borrowing plan. The government aims to raise ₹16,000 crore in the second half of this financial year.

"All eligible green expenditures will include public expenditure undertaken by the government in the form of investment, subsidies, grant-in-aids, or tax foregone or select operational expenditures, research and development expenditures in public sector project that help in reducing the carbon intensity of the economy and enable the country to meet its sustainable development goals," the Department of Economic Affairs said in its report.

Funds via green bonds will not be used to finance projects involving new and existing extraction, production and distribution of fossil fuels, nuclear power generation, direct waste incineration, alcohol, weapons, tobacco, gaming or palm oil industries. In addition, excluded projects include renewable energy projects generating energy from biomass using feedstock originating from protected areas, landfill projects and hydropower plants larger than 25 MW.

"However, investments/expenditures aimed at a relatively cleaner compressed natural gas (CNG) is allowed as an eligible expenditure when used in public transportation projects only. Subsidy/incentive for private transportation using CNG is neither envisaged nor included," the report added.

Adani Ports acquires 49% stake in liquid storage firm Indian Oiltanking

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

ADANI PORTS AND SPECIAL ECONOMIC ZONE LTD (APSEZ) is acquiring Oiltanking India GmbH's 49.38% equity stake in Indian Oiltanking Ltd (IOTL), one of India's largest developer and operator of liquid storage facilities, for ₹1,050 crore.

This agreement also includes acquisition of an additional 10% equity stake in IOT Utkal Energy Services, a 71.57% subsidiary of IOTL. With this acquisition, APSEZ's oil storage capacity jumps 200% to 3.6 Mn KL, making the Adanis India's largest third-party liquid storage company.

"This ties well with our ambition to become the largest transport utility globally," said Karan Adani, CEO and whole-time director of APSEZ. "This stake purchase is also well aligned with our strategy of diversifying the cargo mix with focus on products and services having higher realisation and margins. The deal will further strengthen our strategic partnership with IOCL, a key stakeholder and India's largest refiner and customer of oil storage tanks."

As per a regulatory filing by the APSEZ, IOTL has built a network of six terminals across five states with a total capacity of 2.4 Mn KL (owned capacity of 0.5 Mn KL and BOOT capacity of 1.9 Mn KL) for storage of crude and finished petroleum products in the past 26 years.

The Adani firm said IOTL is on a growth spree given increasing demand for oil products in the country. It recently signed a 25-year BOOT contract with Numaligarh Refinery for construction, operation, and maintenance of 0.6 Mn KL crude storage tanks at the Paradip Port. Besides, the company is also negotiating on various other large projects, both at existing facilities and new locations. "Majority of IOTL's tank capacity is contracted by reputed PSUs and oil majors. With nearly 80% of IOTL's capacity under 'Take-or-Pay' contract, there is a good visibility on the future cash flows of the company," said APSEZ. In FY22, IOTL's revenue and EBITDA were ₹526 crore and ₹357 crore, respectively.

META TO DOWNSIZE, SACK 11,000 EMPLOYEES

UMA KANNAN @Bengaluru

FACEBOOK's parent company Meta Platforms Inc on Wednesday said it was removing 11,000 employees, or 13% of its workforce, joining the list of tech companies that have resorted to massive layoffs citing unfavourable financial outlook. In its official statement, Meta added that it was extending hiring freeze through the first quarter. This means, the company will not recruit people for another six months.

Meta, which owns Facebook, WhatsApp and Instagram, has over 87,000 employees globally. The latest layoff is the biggest since Facebook's inception in 2004. In his message to employees, CEO Mark Zuckerberg said Meta is also taking a number of additional steps to become a leaner and more efficient company by cutting discretionary spending.

While details of the divisional and location wise breakup of the layoffs will emerge in the coming days, the fact that the announcement has specifically touched upon expatriate support is an indication of the impact on this cohort, said Kamal Karanth, co-founder, Xpheno, a specialist staffing firm.

'No impact on India'

Meta employs 300 people in India. Sources told this paper that the layoffs will have little impact in India as the India business is doing well. Meta India posted gross advertising revenue of ₹16,000 cr in FY22 – a 74% jump over the previous year

TVS, Amazon India ink pact to boost electric mobility

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AMAZON INDIA and TVS Motor Company have entered into a strategic engagement to strengthen electric mobility in the country, the companies said in a joint statement on Wednesday.

As part of the collaboration, a fleet of electric two-wheelers and three-wheelers from TVS Motor will be deployed for Amazon's last-mile deliveries.

In addition, the two companies will work in tandem to examine EV use cases for various Amazon business groups and logistical requirements, the statement said. The two companies will pilot TVS Motor's electric vehicle solutions through partner base and delivery associates across India. "We are happy to collaborate with Amazon India, which marks a big milestone in our journey, and contribute to our joint goals of electrifying their mobility services," Manu Saxena, senior vice-president, TVS Motor Company Future Mobility. Abhinav Singh, Amazon India Director-Customer Fulfilment, Supply Chain and Global Specialty Fulfilment, said, "Electric mobility is a significant component of our business operations and we are resolute in our commitment to transforming our transportation network to serve our customers more sustainably."

"This will support our supply chain in minimising the environmental impact of our operations and contribute to Amazon India's goal of inducting 10,000 EVs into our fleet by 2025."

Coal India capex soars by 33% in first half of current financial year

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

STATE-owned Coal India Limited's (CIL) capital expenditure rose 33% in the first half of the current fiscal year, as against the same period last year.

The company attributed the growth to its expansion of coal evacuation infrastructure. CIL said capex of ₹7,027 crore during April-September 2022 surpassed ₹5,300 crore of the comparative period last year by ₹1,727 crore.

"Capex push is essential for long-term growth prospects. To align the increasing production with robust transportation logistics, CIL is fast-tracking the development of its coal evacuation system. This will help in handling seamless movement of coal in future," said a senior CIL executive.

CIL said the two coal evacuation infrastructure heads, setting up of coal handling plants (CHP)/silos and railway lines combined accounted for 36% or ₹2,547 crore of CIL's total capex ending September 2022. "The capital expenditure on coal evacuation projects piped the heads of land acquisition and procurement of heavy earth moving machinery (HEMM), which conventionally comprises the bulk of the capex," said the company in a statement.

Construction of CHPs/silos under first-mile connectivity was the major capex head at ₹1,489 crore in H1FY '23 with an increase of 2.4 times compared to ₹614 crore of corresponding period a year ago. Laying rail corridors and rail sidings was the next major head where the capex has risen to ₹1,058 crore or 33%.

Meanwhile, oil PSUs together spent ₹48,400 crore in the first six months of the current fiscal year, or 43% of their combined annual capex target of ₹111,354 crore.

'1 in 4 firms suffered data breach in 3 yrs globally'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ONE in four companies globally has suffered a data breach that costed $20 million or more in the past three years, according to a PwC report released on Tuesday.

The report noted that the firms across the globe worry about more threats and cyber events in 2023 and nearly 65% of surveyed business executives feel cybercriminals will significantly affect their organisation in 2023, compared to 2022. However, despite cyber attacks continuing to cost businesses millions of dollars, globally fewer than 40% of executives said they have fully mitigated cyber security risk exposure in a number of critical areas. In India, the figure is slightly better with over 50% respondents believing that they have fully mitigated the risks.

"Digitalisation of business demands that corporates and boards invest in becoming more cyber resilient… Our survey clearly reveals organisations that have made cybersecurity a strategic priority have witnessed less disruption to business. Cyber resilience is not only key to survival of businesses but also a key driver of public trust," said Sivarama Krishnan, partner and APAC cybersecurity leader, PwC. In India, cloud-based pathways (59%) and the internet of things (58%) are top areas of concern, followed by mobile devices and software supply chains (54%). Globally, mobile devices are considered most unsecure (41%). As per the survey, 89% of Indian business executives say their organisation's cybersecurity team detected a significant cyber threat to business and prevented it, as against 70% globally. It highlights that 83% Indian business executives said their organisation's cybersecurity team has improved supply chain risk management.

FTT token falls 40%: More troubles for crypto investors likely

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

THE world's largest cryptocurrency exchange Binance has acquired its rival FTX, which was on the verge of collapse. This is said to be the biggest acquisition in the crypto world. Though the deal amount is not disclosed, this acquisition shows the volatility of cryptos.

FTX was valued at $32 billion, and the crypto exchange has been looking for fund raising and evaluating acquisition for some time now.

What were the reasons that led to this liquidity crunch? Punit Agarwal, founder and CEO, KoinX, explained, "Cryptos crashed again as Binance announced it is selling off all its FTX Token (FTT), and this started a big rumour that FTX could possibly be going bankrupt. FTT dropped more than 40% after that announcement, and that led to a broader market contagion in which all major currencies tumbled."

The Indian ecosystem is also affected as the majority of the exchanges have FTT tokens, and due to the sudden drop in price all users are now at a loss. Besides FTT plummeting on Wednesday, many altcoins are seeing heavy volatility.

"Bitcoin also made a new yearly low just above $17,100. The worst might not be over yet, and anything can happen. FTX accepting the bailout means they effectively have a hole in their balance sheet; Binance will bail out FTX, but what will happen to Alameda? Alameda (crypto trading firm) has been borrowing from lenders by giving FTT as collateral," asked Rajagopal Menon, VP, WazirX.

According to him, this is a worrying development for the industry that is already in the middle of a bear market. "The general feeling was that we had hit bottom, and the only way was up. Now the market has to deal with this new unknown; what is the size of the hole that SBF (FTX CEO Sam Bankman-Fried (SBF)) and FTX have dug themselves into?" he questioned. Taaran Chanana, MD and co-founder of MemeChat said the newbies will now be scared to get in.

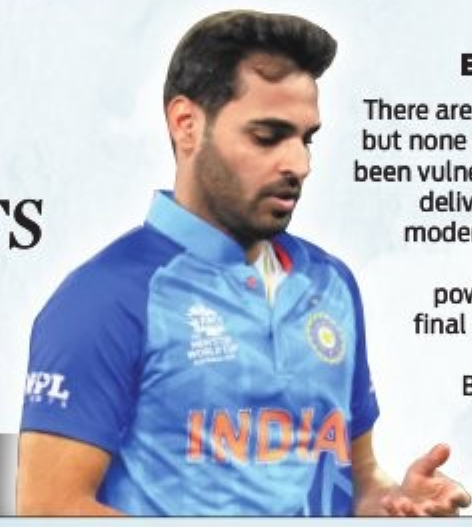
Zverev eyeing December return

Former World No 2 Alexander Zverev is planning a return to the courts during December from a serious ankle injury, his brother and manager Mischa said on Wednesday. Former US Open runner-up Zverev has been sidelined since June's French Open with the ligament tear and could return for December 8-10's Diriyah Tennis Cup in Saudi Arabia.

BATTLE OF MINI CONTESTS

Two top white-ball sides take on each other in an ICC knockout match for the first time since 2013. A look...

LIVE ON STAR SPORTS NETWORK, 1.30 PM

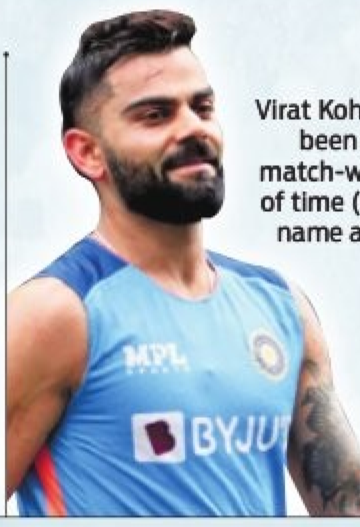


BUTTLER VS BHUVNESHWAR

There are some fascinating direct confrontations but none quite like this. The England captain has been vulnerable to Bhuvneshwar Kumar's moving deliveries in the past. Jos Buttler is an ultra-modern opener but, off late, his methods has been to dot up in the first part of the powerplay before hitting boundaries in the final part of the field restriction. He will look to employ a similar method against Bhuvneshwar, who has found consistent powerplay swing both ways. If he gets Buttler in the first three overs, that will be first blood India.

DEATH-OVERS DUEL

At the very heart of the contest, this battle could ultimately decide the match. England have been the one of the best bowling units at the death in this World Cup. India have been one of the best batting units at the death in this World Cup. India, paying heed to conditions, have slightly reverted to the template — preserving wickets before exploding in the back-end — that gave them lots of bilateral success after a promise of going hard from ball one. England, through a repurposed Sam Curran, have found joy at the death.



KOHLI & ADELAIDE

Virat Kohli's record in ICC knock-out games has been a mixed bag. There have been several match-winning knocks that will stand the test of time (Mirpur in 2014, Birmingham in 2017 to name a few). Yet, there is a feeling he can be snaffled cheaply (The Oval in 2017, Manchester in 2019 and Sydney in 2015). However, there is reason to believe that Kohli will go big. In Adelaide, he's the boss. He understands the dimensions of the ground and has been playing the field expertly.

11.9 India have scored the fastest in death overs this World Cup, while England are the slowest (7.93) among the top four teams.

157.81 Alex Hales has the 2nd highest strike rate among openers from teams that made it to the semifinals.

1 Including the ICC Test Championship final, India have only won one of their last six global knock-out games.

Babar, Rizwan step up to take Pak into final

AGENCIES @ Sydney

HALF-centuries from Babar Azam and Mohammad Rizwan helped Pakistan beat New Zealand in dominant fashion to book its place in the T20 World Cup final.

Rizwan scored 57 runs and Azam added 53 as Pakistan made easy work of a 153-run chase on a placid Sydney wicket. It finished with 153-3 in 19.1 overs. That came after Shaheen Afridi took 2/24 to help restrict New Zealand to a sub-par 152/4 from its 20 overs. Pakistan awaits the winner of Thursday's semifinal between India and England in Adelaide. The final will be played in Melbourne on Sunday.

Opting to bat after winning the toss, New Zealand got off to a poor but eventful start. Finn Allen hit a boundary off the first ball and survived a close leg-before-wicket shout off the second via review. He was then immediately out lbw off the next delivery.

New Zealand captain Kane Williamson and Devon Conway (21) put on 34 runs for the second wicket before the latter was run out at the end of a powerplay. The Black Caps were then reduced to 49/3 in eight overs as Mohammad Nawaz sent back Glenn Phillips (6). Williamson scored 46 off 42 balls, including a four and a six, and anchored the New Zealand innings. He put on 68 runs off 50 balls with Daryl Mitchell for the fourth wicket. Afridi returned to dismiss Williamson in the 17th overs. Mitchell hit three fours and a six in completing his half-century off 32 balls.

Brief scores: New Zealand 152/4 in 20 ovs (Mitchell 53 n.o; Afridi 2/24) lost to Pakistan 153/3 in 19.1 ovs (Rizwan 57, Azam 53)

TIME TO DELIVER IS HERE

Skipper Rohit, known for his acumen in clutch moments, will be aiming to overturn a below par ICC knockout record

GOMESH S @ Chennai

WHEN Rohit Sharma was appointed as the white-ball captain in 2021, tactical nous aside, one of the key reasons behind the decision was to try and bring in someone who knew how to win trophies. Rohit had made a habit of it, winning five as skipper of Mumbai Indians in the Indian Premier League. Make no mistake, India grew into one of the most dominant bilateral sides under Kohli. But the wait for an ICC trophy meant they were looking for a change. Soon after he took charge, Rohit spoke about preparing for a 10/3 situation at the top. More importantly, he spoke about replicating the success for his franchise in his national colours.

That moment is here. As he is all set to lead India for the first time in an ICC knockout game, Rohit knows he is two good days away from fulfilling the dream. However, he is keen on sticking to the process. He believes that the process they have followed for the last 12 months have prepared them for this occasion. "I think it's important not to get ahead of ourselves, and we do understand, as well, that we have to play good cricket to win that game, which I think we've done in this tournament," he said on Wednesday ahead of the semifinal against England.

Indeed, India have played good cricket. They have two batters leading the batting charts and Arshdeep Singh has been the torchbearer of their pace attack. But they have had their share of troubles as well. They have had issues with their fielding and their openers still haven't fired. Significantly, they haven't been able to bring the attacking brand of batting they had displayed in the powerplay throughout 2022.

Rohit doesn't seem to look at it as an issue, instead, he thinks the team has adapted according to the conditions. "I remember talking about coming out and playing fearlessly for a number of months now, but certainly in this tournament it has not happened quite well for us because looking at how the conditions are here, you just don't want to come out and swing your bat. It's not just us; you can see the numbers from the entire tournament of the powerplay overs from all teams. It's not been that great from all the teams," said the Indian skipper.

Which is where India will be tested in Adelaide for two reasons. First up, in what is a used surface, it looks like shot-making could get difficult as the game progresses as was the case during the Netherlands versus South Africa game. If that's not enough, England don't seem to be pulling their punches at all. Their captain Jos Buttler said that they would try and take the game head on as much as they can. Rohit would be hoping that he and his partner-in-crime KL Rahul can adapt to the conditions and use the short square boundaries in the first six overs.

Perhaps their biggest threat is likely to be Sam Curran and Adil Rashid, especially if Mark Wood doesn't get fit in time. The left-arm seamer have stepped up big time in this tournament and the leg-spinner might be brought in early on for the match-ups. Whether they can dominate that contest or not would be crucial.

The bottomline, however, comes down to whether the men's team can come out on top in an ICC knockout game. In the last nine years, they have faltered when it mattered the most, losing five out of eight knockout games across five ICC events. The Indian skipper was clear that failing in a knockout game needn't necessarily define a player's career. "We do understand when you play this kind of tournament, you have to break it into parts. We've done one part of it really well. There are two more parts to go," Rohit said.

However, he knows what it is like to be on the wrong side of a result in an ICC knockout match. Rohit was there in 2014, 2015, 2016 and 2017. In fact, he will remember being distraught at the Old Trafford dressing room balcony in 2019 when the law of averages caught up with him after having a record-breaking tournament.

Come Thursday, Rohit would want to change that feeling.

Pique sent off in final Barcelona match

AFP @ Pamplona

GERARD Pique was sent off at half-time of his final match before retirement, seemingly for remonstrating with the referee, but Barcelona fought back to beat Osasuna 2-1 and move five points clear at the top of La Liga on Tuesday.

The 35-year-old Pique, who waved goodbye to the Camp Nou last weekend, was incensed by referee Jesus Gil Manzano's decision to show Barca striker Robert Lewandowski a second yellow card just after the half-hour mark.

Pique, who was only named as a substitute by Barca coach Xavi Hernandez, angrily approached Manzano at the break. "I was going to bring him on, yes," said Xavi. "We knew that Andreas (Christensen) was coming back from injury, that he lacked a bit of rhythm. Eric Garcia was feeling pain... So Gerard was left and we thought we'd play him, yes. "But they sent him off at half-time. It was the result of the tension of the moment. We felt injustice, hence Gerard's reaction."

Everton, Brentford lose

LONDON: Everton's long wait to win a trophy will not end with the League Cup after Frank Lampard's men were well beaten 4-1 by Bournemouth on Tuesday, as Brentford bowed out on penalties to League Two Gillingham. Leicester continued their upturn in form with a comfortable 3-0 win over Newport County.

Savita to lead Indiain FIH Nations Cup

NEW DELHI: India on Wednesday named a 20-member team for the women's FIH Nations Cup hockey tournament to be played in Valencia, Spain from December 11 to 17 with midfielder Navjot Kaur making a return after missing out the Commonwealth Games earlier this year. Goalkeeper Savita Punia will continue to lead the team.

Gunathilaka accused of choking woman

SYDNEY: Sri Lankan cricketer Danushka Gunathilaka is accused of sexually assaulting a woman in Australia multiple times and choking her so hard she required a brain scan to check for injury, local media reported Wednesday, citing unsealed court documents. The 31-year-old has been charged with four counts of sexual assault and denied bail.

Sajana scores fifty, but South Zone lose

LUCKNOW: Chasing 147 against Central Zone, Sajana S scored 60 off 52 balls, but it wasn't enough as South Zone fell short by 30 runs in the senior women's interzonal T20 on Wednesday. Meanwhile, North Zone trumped East Zone by eight wickets. Brief scores: Central Zone 146/5 in 20 ovs bt South Zone 116 all out in 19.5 ovs (Sajana 60, Anjali 3/12); East Zone 106/2 in 20 ovs (Madhuri 47) lost to North Zone 107/2 in 18.4 ovs (Harleen 53).

Hyderabad edge past Jamshedpur

AGENCIES @ Jamshedpur

HYDERABAD FC registered a fourth consecutive 1-0 victory this season as they edged past Jamshedpur FC in the Indian Super League (ISL) at the JRD Tata Sports Complex in Jamshedpur. Mohammed Yasir scored again for the defending champions in the second half to end their winless streak against the Red Miners.

Despite being goalless, the first half was a decent one for Jamshedpur. None of the Hyderabad FC players tested Rehenesh TP. At the other end, Laxmikant Kattimani barely managed to keep Daniel Chukwu's header out of goal before being stretchered off with an injury after a collision with Harry Sawyer.

The game's complexion changed early in the second half as Hyderabad drew first blood. Halicharan Narzary's low cross aimed at Ogbeche was intercepted by Peter Hartley. However, the ball eventually landed in front of an unmarked Yasir, who squeezed the ball in at the near post in the 48th minute.

COACH BADANI HAS WON FOUR TNPL TITLES

Former India cricketer Hemang Badani has won four Tamil Nadu Premier League titles with Chepauk Super Gillies, including three consecutive ones. A story that was published on Wednesday said that he has won only three titles. The error is regretted.

FUTURE PERFECT

India to host Women's World Boxing Championships in 2023

ANMOL GURUNG @ Chennai

IN a massive boost for women boxers in the country, the International Boxing Association (IBA) president Umar Kremlev officially announced that India will be hosting the 2023 IBA Women's World Boxing Championships. The event will be conducted in New Delhi and according to the IBA calendar, it is scheduled to be held in March. The participating boxers can earn as high as $1,000,000 (₹ 81 lakh approx for winners) during the event with a total prize money pool of $2.4 million (₹19.50 crore).

Things had been brewing in this regard for some time. This daily had reported in June that the Boxing Federation of India (BFI), the governing body of the sport in the country, was keen to bring the marquee event back to the country ahead of the Paris Olympics. The BFI, who last conducted the world meet in 2018, also had the opportunity to host the ongoing Asian Championships, which is being held in Amman, Jordan, but the federation wanted to concentrate on the aforementioned world meet.

In his first visit to India, Kremlev revealed the latest development at a press conference in the national capital on Wednesday. A Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) was signed between the IBA and the Boxing Federation of India (BFI) in the presence of Kremlev and BFI chief Ajay Singh. Nikhat Zareen, who claimed the 52kg world title earlier this year in Istanbul, was also present during the occasion. "India is very passionate about boxing and conducting the World Championships here will be the perfect opportunity to celebrate the innumerable victories as well as inspire many more women to take up the sport and popularise the game more than ever. BFI has worked effortlessly to develop boxing in India and the region and I'm sure they will stage an event to remember," Kremlev said.

Given that the championship is held in high regard, it was always going to be a big draw for the BFI, which has shown high ambitions on and off the ring, to stage an event of this stature. Also, this event would have most likely doubled up as an Olympic qualifier if the IBA was recognised by the International Olympic Committee (IOC). The world boxing body currently stands suspended and the IOC will conduct its own event to identify boxers for Paris.

Lovlina, Alfiya cruise to final

Tokyo Olympics medallist Lovlina Borgohain, Alfiya Pathan and Minakshi (52kg) advanced to the finals of the Asian Championships with all of them winning their respective semifinal bouts with a similar 5-0 verdict. This is a step in the right direction for Lovlina, who has had a couple of setbacks in recent times. This is also the first time that she is competing in the 75kg category in an international meet. While Lovlina got the better of South Korea's Seong Suyeon, Alfiya (+81kg) beat 2016 world champion Lazzat Kungeibayeva of Kazakhastan.

Figures of fossil fuel emissions under-reported

Data released at COP27 shows oil & gas emissions to be 3 times higher than reported

Former US Vice President Al Gore speaks during a session at the COP27

CLIMATE

NEW DELHI: Emissions from oil and gas production worldwide are significantly under-reported and are estimated to be three times higher, according to new data released at the UN climate summit (COP27) on Wednesday.

Climate Trace—a non-profit coalition of organisations which monitors greenhouse gas emissions and publishes emissions inventories using satellite data, artificial intelligence and machine learning — said half of the 50 largest sources of emissions across the world are oil and gas production fields and their associated facilities.

"Globally, emissions from oil and gas production are significantly under-reported, with the data showing that of the countries required to report regularly to the UNFCCC, emissions are as much as three times higher," Climate TRACE said. The top 14 sources of emissions in the world are oil and gas fields, with the Permian Basin in Texas, US, being the largest emitter, the latest global emissions inventory showed.

"The top 500 sources represent less than 1% of the total Climate TRACE inventory but accounts for 14% of global emissions for 2021. ''More than the annual emissions of the United States. 51% of those emissions are from power plants," the coalition said.

Al Gore, former vice-president of the US and a founding member of the Climate Trace coalition, said, "Last year, we found that emissions from oil and gas production were about double what countries reported to the United Nations. With new data on flaring and methane leaks, we estimate actual emissions are likely triple the current reports," he said.

"Oil and gas producers are underreporting emissions. The actual measurements are shocking (3 times)." he said.

Methane has more than 80 times the warming power of carbon dioxide over the first 20 years after it reaches the atmosphere.

Over 100 countries have signed the Global Methane Pledge (launched in 2021), committing to reducing global methane emissions by at least 30% by 2030 from 2020 levels to keep alive the 1.5 degrees Celsius goal. India, which is not a part of the Global Methane Pledge, is among the top five methane emitters globally, according to the International Energy Agency.

Resident priest and other members meditating

EXFILE• MEDITATION

Anchorage Zen Community seeks awareness sitting in silence

For more than three decades, members of the Anchorage Zen Community have gathered in unusual venues—from a busy strip mall to a converted garage—with the same intention: simply to sit and meditate in silence

FINDING STABILITY

Nomadic no more, they have found stillness and stability in a small zendo, or meditation hall, tucked on the edge of two neighborhoods in Alaska's most populous city and epicenter of urban culture

300,000

Anchorage is home to about 300,000 people and the starting point for waves of tourists and outdoor enthusiasts seeking far-flung experiences in a state romanticized for its winters and adventures in the nearby mountains

MATERIALISM KEPT ASIDE

Noise, family, responsibilities, nothing has come in the way of their zazen, which began when the community was founded in 1986 after meeting for years informally with followers of other branches of Buddhism

Resident meditates facing a wall

WEATHER INFLUENCING THE COMMUNITY

The Anchorage Zen Community is influenced by the northernmost state's seasonal rhythms that include long, dark winters as well as short summers when the sun only dips below the horizon for brief stretches, said Genmyo Jana Zeedyk, who has been the resident priest for more than a decade

CONDUCIVE TO BUDDHISM

Alaska winters, Genmyo Jana Zeedyk said, are actually conducive to Zen Buddhism's sitting meditation, or zazen, a practice they believe can help them attain a greater sense of self

A PLACE FOR TEACHING

They've offered a dharma school for children and do community outreach cleaning creeks, organizing community potlucks and visiting prisoners to share the teachings of the Buddha

SENSE OF COMMUNITY

A sense of community is vital in the sparsely populated Alaska, which is roughly 1/5th the size of the entire lower 48 states, said Zeedyk. Because of higher costs and limited supplies in the massive, remote state, they embrace an interdependent and make-do ethos to the benefit of their Buddhist community

AN EXPERIENCE

Meditation has been a transformative experience for many women in prison, said Judith Haggar, the center's treasurer. For more than two decades, she has taught zazen, yoga and the dharma to women at Hiland Mountain Correctional Center.

Oz health records leaked on dark web

TECH

SYDNEY: Hackers have followed through on a threat to leak sensitive medical records stolen from a major Australian health company that counts the country's prime minister among nearly 10 million customers.

Medibank told investors that a "sample" selection of customer data was posted on a "dark web forum" on Wednesday after it refused to pay a ransom demand.

The data included names, birth dates, passport numbers and information on medical claims for hundreds of customers who were separated into "naughty" and "nice" lists.

Some on the "naughty" list had numeric codes that appeared to link them to drug addiction, alcohol abuse and HIV infection.

For example, one record carried an entry that read: "p_diag: F122". F122 corresponds with "cannabis dependence" under the International Classification of Diseases, published by the World Health Organization.

Medibank is Australia's largest private health insurer and the hack is likely to include some of the country's most influential and wealthy individuals. Prime Minister Anthony Albanese said he himself was a Medibank customer and that the attack was a "wake-up call" for corporate Australia.

The perpetrator of the hack has not yet been publicly identified.

But the Australian Federal Police's Justine Gough said it was the work of a "criminal or criminal groups" that could be operating outside the country.

Iran detains female journalists

PRESS

PARIS: Iran is systematically trying to silence women by arresting an unprecedented number of female journalists in its crackdown on protests over Mahsa Amini's death, a media watchdog said on Wednesday.

"As the Iranian regime continues its crackdown on the protests initiated by Mahsa Amini's death, almost half of all newly arrested journalists are women, including two who are facing the death penalty," said Reporters Without Borders (RSF).

"The increasing detention of female journalists symbolically reveals the Iranian regime's intention to systematically silence women's voices," it said in a statement. The Islamic republic has been gripped by protests that erupted when Amini, 22, died in custody after her arrest for an alleged breach of dress code for women. This week, it indicted Niloufar Hamedi and Elahe Mohammadi, two newspaper journalists who first drew public attention to Amini's death, for "propaganda against the system and conspiracy to act against national security" —charges that can carry the death penalty.

Germany stops China's chip factory deal

TECH

BERLIN: Germany on Wednesday blocked the sale of a chipmaker to a Chinese-owned firm because of a potential threat to security.

"We must look very closely at company takeovers when it relates to important infrastructure or when there is a danger that the technology would flow to buyers from non-EU countries," said Economy Minister Robert Habeck.

Chinese company Sai Micro-Electronics had been seeking to buy the Dortmund factory of Elmos through its Swedish subsidiary Silex.

The German government had rejected the planned takeover because "the purchase could endanger the order and security of Germany," the economy ministry stated.

Fears have been growing in Europe's economic powerhouse about an over-reliance on Beijing, and letting critical infrastructure fall into the hands of Chinese state-linked companies.

NASA launch of moon rocket delayed again

SPACE

CAPE CANAVERAL: NASA is again postponing the launch of its new moon rocket because of a storm threatening the Florida coast.

Fuel leaks have kept the rocket grounded since August. Then Hurricane Ian forced the rocket back to the hangar at Kennedy Space Centre at the end of September.

The rocket was moved back to the launch pad last week, and NASA was aiming for a launch attempt early Monday.

But on Tuesday, the space agency said it was delaying the launch until at least next Wednesday because of Tropical Storm Nicole, which is expected to hit Florida's Atlantic coastline as a Category 1 hurricane over the next few days. The space centre is under a hurricane warning but NASA is keeping the rocket at the launch pad. NASA said the rocket is designed to withstand heavy rains and high wind.

The $4.1 billion mission will send an empty crew capsule around the moon and back in a flight test before astronauts climb aboard in a couple years. It is NASA's biggest step yet to get astronauts back on the moon by 2025.

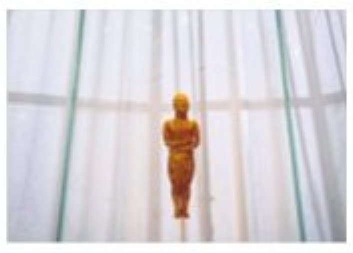
FACT OF THE MATTER

Tropical storm aims at Florida

DISASTER

Many people evacuated from vulnerable locations in the northwestern Bahamas as Tropical Storm Nicole approached on Wednesday and residents of Florida braced for the storm, which could strengthen into a hurricane. Nicole was expected to be the first storm to make landfall in the Bahamas since Hurricane Dorian, a devastating Category 5 storm that hit the archipelago in 2019, before hitting storm-weary Florida on Wednesday night and moving into Georgia on Thursday. In the Bahamas, officials said early Wednesday that only a few people were in the more than two dozen shelters that opened. Residents in at least three Florida counties—Flagler, Palm Beach and Volusia—were ordered to evacuate.

Art recouped from US shown



REPATRIATE

It's a first symbolic step in a homecoming that will long outlast the 10-year Odyssey of ancient myth. For decades, an important part of Greece's cultural heritage sparkled only for the very few in a US billionaire's private collection, until a deal for its gradual return to Athens. Now 15 of the prehistoric masterpieces have gone on public view for the first time in a temporary display in Athens, ahead of their final return, together with the remaining 146 works, by the year 2048. But Greek opposition and some archaeologists, say that's too long. They say the government should have fought in court to recoup the entire collection quicker, arguing it was looted from ancient sites and smuggled away.

18-carat rock sold for $28.8 mn

AUCTION

A pear-shaped 18-carat pink diamond billed as a rarity sold at a Geneva auction for 28.4 million Swiss francs ($28.8 million), including fees and taxes, on the lower end of the expected range. The "Fortune Pink" fancy vivid pink stone, said to be the largest of its kind and shape to go on the block, headlined Christie's latest Geneva sale of jewellery. It had been expected to fetch between $25 million and $35 million. The auction house said an unidentified Asian buyer snapped up the diamond. Max Fawcett, head of Christie's jewellery department in Geneva, said the stone with a strong, saturated pink colour was mined in Brazil more than 15 years ago. He declined to identify its owner, but described the diamond as "a true miracle of nature." Christie's says the first pink diamonds ever recorded were found in India's Golconda mines in the 16th century, before others turned up over the centuries in places like Africa, Australia, Brazil and Russia.

ANYTHING IS POSSIBLE

Brainwave-reading implant lets paralysed man spell out words

SCIENCE

PARIS: A paralysed man who cannot speak or type was able to spell out over 1,000 words using a neuroprosthetic device that translates his brain waves into full sentences, US researchers said on Tuesday.

"Anything is possible," was one of the man's favourite phrases to spell out, said the first author of a new study on the research, Sean Metzger of the University of California San Francisco (UCSF).

Last year the team of UCSF researchers showed that a brain implant called a brain–computer interface could translate 50 very common words when the man attempted to say them in full.

In the new study, published in the journal Nature Communications, they were able to decode him silently miming the 26 letters of the phonetic alphabet.

"So if he was trying to say 'cat', he would say charlie-alpha-tango," Metzger told AFP.

A spelling interface then used language-modelling to crunch the data in real time, working out possible words or errors.

The researchers were able to decode more than 1,150 words, which represent "over 85% of the content in natural English sentences", the study said.

They simulated that this vocabulary could be extended to more than 9,000 words, "which is basically the number of words most people use in a year," Metzger said.

The device decoded around 29 characters a minute, with an error rate of 6%. That worked out to be around seven words a minute.

The man is referred to as BRAVO1, as the first participant of the Brain-Computer Interface Restoration of Arm and Voice trial.

Now in his late 30s, he suffered a stroke when he was 20 that left him with anarthria—the inability to speak intelligibly, though his cognitive function remained intact.

He normally communicates by using a pointer attached to a baseball cap to poke at letters on a screen. In 2019, the researchers surgically implanted a high-density electrode on the surface of his brain, over the speech motor cortex.

Via a port embedded in his skull, they have since been able to monitor the different electrical patterns produced when he tries to say varying words or letters.

Metzger said that BRAVO1 "really enjoyed using this device because he's able to communicate quickly and easily with us". One of the best parts of the study was when BRAVO1 was told to spell out "whatever he wants", Metzger said.

"I got to learn a good amount about him," said Metzger.

Among BRAVO1's surprising comments was that "he really didn't like the food where he lives," Metzger added.

DAY'S DIARY

Word of the year

On this day in 2020, Collins Dictionary has declared 'Lockdown' as its Word of the Year after it was used frequently due to COVID-19

LITERAL MEANING

Collins Dictionary defines the word as the imposition of stringent restrictions on travel, social interaction, and access to public spaces

ORIGIN OF THE WORD

Lockdown was originally a part of prison vocabulary. It's when inmates are confined to their cells because of some disturbance on the wing

FIRST USAGE

The term first started appearing in news reports when the Chinese city of Wuhan put strict travel restrictions in place to fight a spreading virus

In B'luru recently, former India women's cricket captain Mithali Raj opens up about her recent Bollywood biopic, decision to retire from international cricket and more

'I'VE NOT CLOSED DOORS FOR DOMESTIC MATCHES'

DESE GOWDA

IT'S been the year that former cricketer Mithali Raj has been grabbing headlines. First, for her biopic starring Bollywood actor Tapsee Pannu, and second, about her retirement. But within months of retiring from all formats of international cricket, the former Indian women's cricket captain is dabbling in other interests. This includes investing in Bengaluru-based edtech platform Masai School that offers skill improvement programmes to young graduates trying to get placed. This, in fact, brought her to Bengaluru along with former footballer Bhaichung Bhutia.

Speaking about biopics, despite Shabaash Mithu being received positively by critics, the film failed to meet financial expectations. "In our country, biopics haven't really been hits, maybe because the viewers aren't ready for such stories. Also, the movie released in July '22 at a time when people were still hesitant to go to theatres thanks to the pandemic. So clearly that had a massive impact on how the movie fared," she explains, adding that most people ignore the fact that it actually performed well on streaming platforms, having been the most watched title on Netflix for weeks. What does she have to say about Pannu's portrayal of her on screen? "She did a fine job. It was very difficult for her to learn, because it wasn't just learning to bat, rather she had to learn my style. I wasn't involved in the process much due to my busy schedule, but she did wonderfully well, given the huge expectations. Many have told me that they felt like they were actually watching me on screen," she shares.

Raj feels the sport has evolved considerably since her debut two decades ago. "Women's cricket has graduated from having an independent body to now being under the BCCI. Players now earn an equal match fee compared to their male counterparts. There are more international events for women now as well," she explains. The 39-year-old feels she left the sport at a much better place than when she first found it. "The women's IPL, and the Under-19 World Cup will definitely help expand the pool of players that we have now. I envision a future where we have a strong bench strength equal to the national side. IPL will definitely strengthen the sport at a grassroots level. Parents will allow girls to take up the sport professionally, because now it is financially sustainable," she shares.

While she admits at having been at the receiving end of gender biases, she says the experience of being in the sport for such a long time is something else. "Sometimes you can't put into words the experience and emotions you feel when you represent your country at the highest level, and consistently for a long time. It's been an honour to represent India and more so to lead India in the World Cups. Nothing comes close to that." Ahead of the much anticipated inaugural edition of Women's IPL next year, Raj hints at a return to domestic cricket with the series possibly on the cards. "I'm not coming back into international cricket for sure. But I've not closed the doors for the domestic matches, we'll have to wait and see," she says.

Ramaiah Group recognises 18 star startups

Ramaiah Group of Institutions, as part of its Evolute program, gave away the Star Start-up Awards to 18 selected start-ups that were chosen for recognition after a gruelling process of selection from an extensive number of applicants across the country. The Star Start-up Award is in line with the group's vision of recognising and encouraging innovation and coming up with products and processes using next generation technology while giving a fillip to emerging entrepreneurs. The 18 Star Start-ups were recognised for their incredible innovative spirit and techniques, the clean green technology solutions offered, the sustainable features of the products and processes developed and the diverse domains that they relate to where some of them entered into segments that were direly needed but had so far seen negligible or nil ventures. There was also a showcasing of select start-ups from Evolute Cohorts 1 & 2 to an elite panel of investors.

QUICK FIX

PEPPER RASAM

Contributed by Priya Shiva, Chennai

INGREDIENTS

- Tamarind: 1 tbsp
- Tomato: 1, chopped
- Ghee: 1 tbsp
- Pepper rasam powder: 2 tsp
- Turmeric powder: 1/4 tsp
- Jaggery: 1 tsp, powdered
- Asafoetida: 1/8 tsp
- Salt as per taste
- Mustard seeds: 1 tsp
- Curry leaves: 1 sprig
- Fresh coriander leaves: 2 tbsp

METHOD

- Soak tamarind in one cup of warm water for 15 minutes. Extract the juice by removing the pulp and seeds.
- In a saucepan, add tamarind water and chopped tomatoes.
- Add pepper rasam powder, turmeric powder, jaggery, salt and two cups of water. Mix it well, lower flame and let it cook for a few minutes.
- Add some fresh coriander leaves, mix well and remove from flame.
- In a small frying pan, add ghee and mustard seeds. When mustard seeds crackle, add asafoetida and curry leaves.
- Add this tempering to rasam and serve.

FIT BIT

TADASANA ON TIPTOES HASTA VINYASA

(MOUNTAIN POSE TIPTOES ARMS FLOW)

This is a balancing yoga pose, which is practised to strengthen the lower body. The dynamic flow of the arms as you balance on the toes teaches practitioners to stay aware of both, their body and breath. This flow helps to improve the stability.

STEPS

- First, begin the practice standing in Tadasana, extending the spine, puffing the chest and taking the shoulders back.
- Keep your chin up and place the feet close to each other.
- Now, inhale and raise the arms as you go gently onto your toes, while gazing ahead of you.
- Now, exhale and bring the arms down slowly, as you still remain on your toes.
- Exhale. Then, inhale and raise the arms again as you balance on your toes.
- Exhale and bring the arms down. Repeat this flow as you coordinate the breath with the arm movements.
- During this flow, make sure that the belly is pulled in, engaging the core muscles.
- Release, come down on your feet and relax.
- Repeat again, taking the practice for a longer duration.

LIMITATIONS

People who have a cardiac condition, stress-related headaches, a migraine, low blood pressure, insomnia, osteoarthritis of the knees, bulimia, diarrhea, prone to backache and slipped disc or a prolapsed uterus, must avoid this.

Those who have high blood pressure should avoid doing this for more than 15 seconds.

Women should avoid doing this during pregnancy.

BENEFITS

- Plays a great role in strengthening the gluteus maximus and the toe extensor muscles.
- Helps in strengthening the arches of your feet.
- Stretches the calves, hamstrings, arms and shoulders.
- Improves the blood circulation in the legs, stimulating the circulatory system.
- Helps in the balance and stability of senior citizens.
- Helps in healing of plantar fasciitis.
- Helps in dealing with Piriformis Syndrome. Patients are advised to do the pose under the guidance of a yoga teacher.
- It acts as a preparatory pose for many challenging tiptoes poses.

PADA (Malayalam)

Pada raises the seminal question of land and the displacement of Adivasi (Indigenous) communities in India. All the governments that have ruled the nation made laws that denied the indigenous people their way of life and often their land, protecting crony capitalist interests. The film revisits an episode of dissent in the 90s which brought up this question.

Cast: Kunchacko Boban, Vinayakan, Joju George, Dileesh Pothan

HAIR-RAISING TALES

Recently, a 50-year-old woman suffered a beauty parlour stroke syndrome while getting a hair wash. Here's all you need to know about the disorder

DR SUNIL KUMAR PRABHU

IT'S always a great experience for women and men to visit a beauty parlour to meet their grooming and styling requirements, which have advanced with the beauty and cosmetics market and procedures improving to unprecedented levels since the 2000s.

However, it would always be prudent and in the interest of the parlour to partner with their local area general doctor/dermatologist/hospitals for certain untoward situations that occur in their customers from a very minor allergy to severe allergic reactions and also to an entity called Beauty Parlour Stroke syndrome also called in medical terms 'Rotational Vertebral Artery Syndrome'.

Hair washing, vigorous neck massage, hair transplant done by someone ho's ot echnically qualified, chin lifting, and cosmetic treatment could all potentially lead to people suffering from a stroke in the salon. The dictum is for parlours to be careful in not to hyperextend the neck backwards to more than 20 degrees from the flat imaginary line when bending backwards. The blood vessels from the neck areas pass on to the brain from the neck and are susceptible to get kinked (pressurized on bending) and cause in certain people to cause blood supply to be affected to certain brain areas with an ultimate condition resembling stroke.

Support of the nape of the neck by a folded towel is beneficial to restrict hyperextension of neck. Symptoms can range from dizziness, syncope (fainting), impaired vision/rapid eye rotation, nausea, eye pupillary disturbances and other motor and sensory deficits (loss of sensation and movements of the concerned area) that occur with head rotation. Patients might need immediate attention at a hospital centre that has good facilities to manage a complex disorder like stroke.

Moreover, beauty parlour staff should exercise caution when washing hair of customers or giving them massages. Customers should request gentle massages rather than vigorous ones to avoid putting too much pressure on the blood vessels, which might result in a stroke. In addition, it is advised that if a person suffers from any recurring pain, they should consult a doctor instead of getting a home massage.

Too much PM2.5 can increase heart attack risk

IF you have an underlying heart condition, avoid polluted air, as researchers now report that higher exposure to PM 2.5 and PM 10 in such patients can worsen their condition, including a heart attack. In a paper published in the Journal of the American College of Cardiology, a team of global researchers aimed to evaluate the association between long-term exposure to particulate matter 2.5 (PM2.5) and 10 (PM10), and coronary vasomotor disorders in non-obstructive coronary artery disease (NOCAD) patients.

Coronary vasomotor abnormalities are important causes of myocardial ischemia in patients with NOCAD. However, the role of air pollution in determining coronary vasomotor disorders has never been investigated.

The team studied patients with myocardial ischemia and NOCAD undergoing coronary angiography and intracoronary provocation test. – IANS

Ready-to-eat meals, frozen pizza can kill you early in life, warns study

Daily consumption of ultra-processed foods like pre-packaged soups, sauces, frozen pizza and ready-to-eat meals can kill you early in life, and according to new research. Consumption of such foods was associated with more than 10 per cent of all-cause premature, preventable deaths in Brazil in 2019. Although Brazilians consume far less of these products than countries with high incomes, consumption of ultra-processed foods containing little or no whole foods in their ingredients contributed to 57,000 premature deaths in Brazil in 2019, investigators report in the American Journal of Preventive Medicine. Such ready-to-eat-or-heat industrial formulations made with ingredients extracted from foods or synthesised in laboratories have gradually been replacing traditional meals made from fresh and minimally processed ingredients in many countries. — IANS

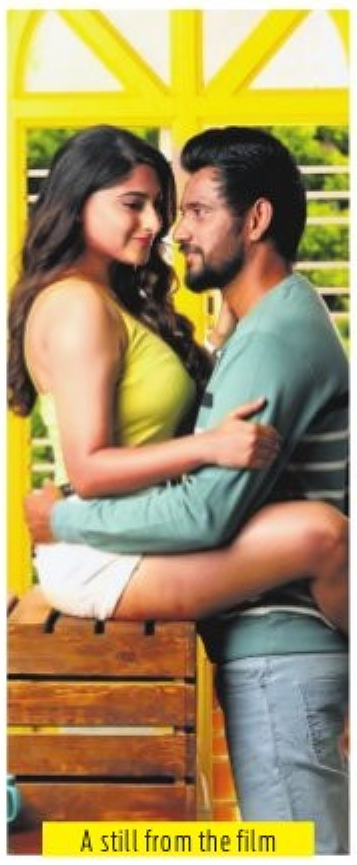
‘I LIKE TO BE PART OF LOVE STORIES’

... says Nishvika, who is awaiting the reaction of the audience for her role in Dilpasand in which she will be seen in a bold and glamorous avatar for the first time



A still from the film

A SHARADHAA

ACTOR Nishvika calls her character Aishwarya in Dilpasand, “fiery, glamorous, and sassy”. The young actor, who will be sharing screen space with Krishna in Shiva Tejas’s directorial, says, “This character in Dilpasand is very bold and in complete contrast to my actual personality.” Nishvika says that she enjoyed playing this role which was completely different from Suji, her role as the girl-next-door in Sharan’s Guru Shishyaru. “All my films to date have featured me in a homely look and this is the first time I will be seen in a glamourous role, I’m curious to know the reaction. Moreover, I like to be part of love stories because such scripts offer more screen space, scope to perform, and a lot of attention towards the character.”

Nishvika believes that characters seen on screen are always an inspiration of a personality that has been observed, and people like Aishwarya exist in our society. “There is a reason for Aishwarya behaving in the manner she does and that’s because she doesn’t want to show her weakness. She covers her emotions by behaving sassy and arrogantly. Isn’t that how most of us are? Our weakness is covered with an attitude, and they are seen in different perspectives by others, says Nishvika.

Nishvika, speaking about her method of getting into the skin of her character, says that she does it by understanding her role which comes from discussions with the director and not from taking references. Even then, the actor feels it was a draining character to play in Dilpasand. “I was keen that the character I portray in this film doesn’t hurt the emotions or offend anyone. Because of playing such a role, working on this film was a whole new experience for me. Luckily, the team was considerate. The role was clearly explained to me and they were open to changes which I recommended and that made me feel comfortable, signs off Nishvika who is waiting for the release of Dilpasand on November 11.

Bharat Bopanna marks his Tamil debut with Thalaivi director Vijay

The actor will face off against Arun Vijay in the action entertainer titled Achcham Enbathu Illaye

CE FEATURES

ACTOR Bharat Bopanna, known for his stint in TV serials like Girija Kalyana, Radha Kalyana, and Brahmagantu, made his tinsel town debut with Demo Piece. The actor, who will be seen playing a pivotal character in the upcoming biopic, Vijayanand, is set to foray into Tamil cinema.

Bharat will play the antagonist in Thalaivi director Vijay’s next, Achcham Enbathu Illaye, which stars Arun Vijay, Nimisha Sajayan, and Amy Jackson in the lead. Interestingly, Bharat gets to play the antagonist role in his Kollywood debut.

Back after completing a schedule in London, Bharat expressed his happiness in getting a big break in Tamil. “It is an out-and-out action film. I had previously auditioned for one of director Vijay’s films, but unfortunately, I could not be part of the film. It was after 3 years, I got a call from the director, who asked me whether I was interested in playing the negative role. I was more than happy that he remembered me and gave me another opportunity. I immediately said Yes. The role is that of an Angry young man on a mission. I always wanted to do action, and this film is like a dream come true,” he says.

Bharat will soon be joining the next schedule of Achcham Enbathu Illaye, scheduled in Chennai.

‘IT IS NEVER A CAKEWALK FOR A PRODUCER’S SON TO ENTER THE INDUSTRY’

Shreyas Manju speaks about his upcoming commercial action entertainer, Raana, ahead of its release this week

CE FEATURES

DESPITE being producer K Manju’s son, Shreyas Manju admits having struggles in establishing his career. “While a star’s son usually gets a fan following, that is not the case for children of producers. It isn’t always a cakewalk. There is an assumption that we enter the industry, and as a show-off. But it is not the truth. I’m here purely on passion, and I want to prove it with my own talent,” says the actor.

Shreyas, who made his debut with Paddehuli, is back on the big screen after three years with Raana. “In fact, I had completed shooting for Vishnu Priya much before Raana. However, we decided to release Raana first,” he says.

The actor shares that producer Gujjal Purushotham saw his performance in Vishnu Priya and offered him the Nanda Kishore directorial, which is set to release this week.

In Raana, Shreyas Manju plays an aspiring police officer, and the actor describes it as a commercial entertainer, which not only is a good thriller but also has realistic action sequences, “Despite being trained in various forms of fights, I still underwent a short training and got specialised for the stunt episodes. It is one of the highlights of the film,” says Shreyas, who will have two shades to his role.

With Reeshma Nanaiah playing the lead, Raana has Kirik Party actor Samyuktha Hegde appearing in a special song. With Shekar Chandru handling the cinematography, Raana has music composed by Chandan Shetty.

Crime thrillers work well with new faces: Srinivas Raju

CE FEATURES

HUBLI Dhaba is the next film from director Srinivas Raju of the Dandupalya trilogy fame. A filmmaker, who has a penchant for crime drama is making a comeback after five years with a murder mystery. A bilingual film made in Kannada will be released in Telugu as Thaggedele. “The film is based on a true incident, which takes place in 1 day, has three parallel stories, and revolves around a dhaba,” says Srinivas, who explains his inclination towards crime subjects. “I always enjoyed working on murder mysteries as it involves drama and the violence speaks volumes. Moreover, OTT platforms have conditioned the audience to process intelligent films well.”

He feels that love stories and commercial entertainers are meant for only stars. “I believe thrillers are the best genres to accommodate new faces. I didn’t want to be out of sight and out of the audience’s mind by taking a long break. So post-pandemic, I immediately began the project with the available sources,” he says. The film marks the Kannada debut of Naveen Chandra, it also has Divya Pillai, Ananya Sengupta, Ravi Shankar, and Raja Raveendar.

Interestingly, the director has managed to make the actors of the Dandupalya franchise do a cameo appearance. Hubli Dhaba is slated to release on November 11 and it is produced by Bharat Production. The film has Charan Arjun composing the music. Venkat Prasad has handled the cinematography.

THE BIRTH OF YASHODA

MURALI KRISHNA CH

IT took a little over two years for debutant filmmakers Hari Shankar and Harish Narayan to conceive and complete filming Yashoda. Billed as an emotional thriller, Yashoda stars Samantha Ruth Prabhu and Varalaxmi Sarathkumar. Inspired by true events, Yashoda is a fictitious take on the crime racket behind the surrogacy mafia. “There’s more to the story than just surrogacy. The audience will be thrilled to discover a few other aspects of women and motherhood in the film. We are confident that the emotional core and the drama around the central characters will tug at your heartstrings,” says the director duo.

Expressing their displeasure at Yashoda being compared to the Kriti Sanon-starrer Mili, which was also about surrogacy, the filmmakers said, “Yashoda is a unique story. The film discusses surrogacy, its nexus with the medical mafia, and how the pandemic poverty pushed women into this trade.”

The debutants reveal that Samantha was the only choice for Yashoda. “We wanted to have a protagonist who is both physically and mentally strong. Even while writing the story, we visualised every shot keeping Samantha in mind. We were thrilled that she instantly gave her nod to do this film,” explains Hari.

The young filmmakers were amazed by the passion Samantha brought to the sets. and say, “Irrespective of the emotional heft of a scene, Samantha aced it with ease. She never used glycerine and could naturally shed a tear in front of the camera. She is a director’s actor, and rarely took a second take.”

A fortnight ago, Samantha announced that she has been diagnosed with myositis, an autoimmune condition that causes the weakening of muscles. The directors revealed that they weren’t aware of her medical condition while shooting. “We came to know about her condition only after the dubbing works commenced. She was a thorough professional and never discussed about her condition on the sets. So, there was no question of a delay in the shoot. In fact, she shot for a spine-chilling action sequence despite ill health and fever. She always cared for the people, who worked with her and ensured 100 per cent cooperation on the sets,” observes Harish.

The director duo points out that the action sequences in Yashoda will perfectly comply with the story. “The film is more like a survival drama where a woman fights against all odds. So, the action sequences will stay true to the story. Overall, there are five action sequences of which three were conceptualised by Venkat and two others were conceived by Yannick Ben,” says Harish.

A major portion of the film was shot in a fictitious hospital facility called Eva. “At first, we planned to shoot the film in a five-star hotel in Hyderabad. But we understood that the restrictions or the guidelines of such hotels will curb our creative freedom. We then approached art director Ashok Kumar and he constructed a corporate hospital set, which, in a way, became one of the crucial characters of our film,” observe the directors.

Being first-timers in Telugu, Hari and Harish don’t want to compromise on the nativity factor and sought the help of journalists-turned-writers Pulagam Chinnarayana and Challa Bhagyalakshmi to stay relevant to the local sensibilities. “Chinnarayana sir and Bhagyalaksmi sir eased out our difficulties, especially in the language and culture. They also gave additional inputs, and we incorporated them without any second thought. Having a woman writer on board also helped us to fine-tune our script. We all worked with a positive mindset, and you will see our efforts on the big screen on November 11,” says the duo.

Singing praises for Varalaxmi Sarathkumar, Hari and Harish say, “We narrated the script to her via Zoom for 20 minutes and her silence after our conversation panicked us. A few moments later, she asked us to translate this story neatly onto the screen. She is a natural actor and will be seen in a role that is completely different from her earlier films. It was our luck to have worked with these talented women (Samantha & Varalaxmi) in Yashoda.”
